TWO DIE WHEN CAR TURNS AT SHARP CURVE

Mother and Son Killed in Tragic Auto Mishap on West Saanich Road

Dying Youth Relates Circumstances Leading to Fatal Accident

Mrs. Edith M. Barnes and her twenty-year-old son Leonard, were killed when the automobile in which they were riding collapsed at a curve in the West Saanich Road, and turned over. The other occupant of the car, Miss Clara Goodwin of Port Angeles, was only injured slightly.

Mrs. Barnes was killed instantly. Her son died in the Jubilee Hospital at 9.45 o'clock last night.

Gasping for breath and in great pain, Leonard Barnes told Chief of Police Thomas Hastings of Saanich the story of the accident as he lay at the roadside after the crash.

"He had pluck," said Chief Hastings. "He tried to tell me the whole story as he lay suffering by the roadside."

Leonard Barnes had said, the chief declared, that he had been driving along the West Saanich Road towards Victoria. With him were his mother and Miss Clara Goodwin of Port Angeles. They were going down an incline in the road a few hundred yards past the Mount Newton Cross Road when, in taking a sharp curve, the right rear wheel collapsed. The machine leaped sideways, lurched over and flung them all violently to the roadside.

The young man stopped occasionally while he talked with the officer and gasped for breath. It pained him to breathe.

WENT TOO FAST

"He admitted he was driving too fast," said Chief Hastings. "I guess he was, all right, or it would not have happened. It takes a lot of strain to buckle a wheel like that."

The road over which the motoring party was traveling was new to the driver, Chief Hastings said. Barnes said he had been going over country that was quite strange to him. He did not expect to come to any sudden curve in the road.

WOMAN UNHURT

The escape from death which Miss Goodwin experienced was little short of miraculous, it was learned after the accident. While her two companions were either dead or dying, Miss Goodwin was feeling no ill effects save those of shock and the minor bruises.

The highway bend where the death car came to grief was just outside the home of Dr. Whitehouse, near Colville Point Road, which runs to a little beach. There, immediately after the crash, Dr. Whitehouse hurried, rendering what aid he could to Barnes and comforting the shocked woman. Mrs. Barnes, quite dead, lay on the grass by the roadside.

Meanwhile Chief Hastings had been summoned by telephone, and arrived soon after 6 p.m., immediately setting about gathering details of the accident.

The Cameron & Calwell ambulance, returning from Resthaven Hospital, stopped when the driver saw the accident. Barnes, still fighting for life, was placed in the ambulance and the machine continued to Victoria.

At the Jubilee Hospital Dr. J. W. Lennox attended the injured man, but despite all the attention which the institution could give him, Barnes died at 9.45 o'clock.

Mrs. Barnes's body was removed to the Thomson Funeral Parlors, where later the body of her son was taken. A double funeral service will be arranged, it was announced.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, stated this morning that he did not believe it would be necessary to hold an inquest.

Mrs. Barnes and her son are survived by Mr. Barnes, husband and father. He resides in Seattle.

NEWS DELAYED BY ELECTRIC STORMS

Disturbances Affect Wire and Radio Services in Canada and United States

Toronto, July 22.—Telegraphic, telephonic and radio communication throughout most of Canada to-day was still suffering from the effects of the severe electrical storms and manifestations of Aurora Borealis which disrupted the services last night.

For several hours all wire communications east and west were completely tied up last night, the delay in dispatch of news service being one of the most serious experienced in years.

The electrical storm broke shortly before the start of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight and interfered with the relaying of the round by round account of the contest, the force of the Northern Lights being felt as far east as New York.

The electrical display played havoc with automatic telegraph equipment. Attempts to operate these machines resulted in destruction of delicate and costly instruments and to prevent heavy loss and more serious dislocation of service, wires generally were "Morsed," permitting reception of fragmentary news.

Improved service was not reported until early this morning, the wires being still subjected to intermittent flashes of vagrant electrical charges.

EXPERTS EXAMINE TARIFF PLANS OF FRUIT PRODUCERS

B.C. Government Takes Neutral Stand But Co-operates in Investigation

McKenzie of Tariff Commission to Meet Growers Here and on Mainland

Officials of the Federal Tariff Commission started here to-day to investigate fruit marketing conditions as they affect Vancouver Island's strawberry crop and the fruit crops of the Mainland.

At conferences with experts of the Department of Agriculture, D. G. McKenzie, of the commission, secured exhaustive data on the fruit situation in the whole Province. While fruit growers are urging the commission to recommend a seasonal tariff to give them greater protection against United States fruit, officials of the agricultural department assumed a neutral attitude on this proposal.

GETS ALL FACTS

As being outside the sphere of provincial administration, tariff matters were left entirely to the commission, which deals with them exclusively. To assist the commission in reaching a conclusion on the seasonal tariff proposal, however, officials supplied Mr. McKenzie and his associates with all possible information on the production of British Columbia's fruit ranches and the problems met by British Columbia growers in selling their fruit in Canadian markets.

To-morrow Mr. McKenzie will confer with Saanich fruit growers through their several organizations and hear their views on the marketing situation. Growers generally favor a seasonal tariff as the only practical method of conserving the Canadian market for Canadian fruit in competition with United States imports.

The difficulties encountered by Gordon Head growers this season when they started to market their record-breaking strawberry crop will be stressed at the conference with Mr. McKenzie. Just as the Gordon Head berries were about to arrive on the Prairies early this Summer the Prairie markets were glutted with United States berries, which ripen earlier than the Canadian fruit. With a seasonal tariff this would not have happened, growers assert.

TARIFF FAVORED

The seasonal tariff is favored as against the present dumping duty because it is considered a more effective measure and not so likely to disrupt business.

The Tariff Commission heard representations from British Columbia fruit men in Ottawa recently but decided to have the situation examined at first hand by Mr. McKenzie. After conferences here he will meet Mainland berry men and will then go to the Okanagan Valley to examine the problems of apple growers there.

DEMONSTRATION FOR CAROL BROKEN UP

Several Roumanians in Crowd in Town 115 Miles North-west of Bucharest Killed

Berlin, July 22.—A dispatch to The Nacht Ausgabe from its special correspondent in Bucharest says there was a demonstration in favor of ex-Crown Prince Carol of Roumania at Fagares. The demonstrators are said to have been dispersed by cavalry, several of the crowd being killed.

Fagares is in the district of the same name and is about 115 miles north-west of Bucharest.

Prince Michael was proclaimed King of Roumania Wednesday afternoon, following the death of his grandfather, King Ferdinand, a Regency Council of three members being sworn in to act until he is eighteen years of age. King Michael, the only son of former Crown Prince Carol and Princess Helen of Greece, his wife, is five years and nine months old.

In December, 1925, Prince Carol renounced his right of succession to the throne of Roumania. Since early in 1926 he has been living in France, having a villa at Neuilly, a suburb of Paris.

Bucharest, July 22—In a simple golden oak casket, covered with flowers from Queen Marie and her daughters, the body of King Ferdinand rested to-day in the Golden Hall of Cotroceni Palace. Thousands of sorrowing Roumanians passed the bier to do honor to the memory of their beloved king.

The body was brought to the Winter palace late yesterday afternoon from the royal Summer estate at Sinaia, where the monarch died. It will lie in state until Sunday, when burial will be made in the royal mausoleum at Curtea de Arges. On the tomb will be engraved the words: "I am Roumanian, first, last and all the time."

MANY WEPT

Guns boomed as the funeral train came to a stop in the capital and, although rain was falling, silent crowds watched as the coffin, surmounted by the late sovereign's sword and cap, was borne from the station to the gun carriage and thence through the streets of the city to the palace. All along the way there were evidences of the grief felt by the people. Men, women and children wept.

BODY SEEN IN RIVER

Trail, B.C., July 22.—The body of an unidentified man was seen floating down the Columbia River by several local residents yesterday. It was clad in a red sweater. The swirling waters carried the body away.

No news of a drowning is reported from upstream.

ELEVEN RESCUED FROM SINKING CRAFT

Key West, Fla., July 22.—Six men and five women were rescued from a sinking launch last night by the steamship Cuba. Captain J. T. Albury, commander of the Cuba, reported on arrival here to-day that the Cuba took them from the launch off Egmont Key a few moments before it sank.

GREAT HERDS OF CARIBOU ARE SEEN

White Horse, Y.T., July 22.—Herds of caribou thought to number some 60,000 are reported to have been seen between Isaac Creek and Selwyn and the Yukon River. They were filmed by a news photographer from the steamer White Horse.

PASSPORT SYSTEM FOR THOSE VISITING RUSSIA

Montreal, July 22. — Any Canadian citizen or resident wishing to visit Soviet Russia should file an application with a local transportation company for a Soviet visa, which will be forwarded to the Soviet Foreign Office in Moscow. The Foreign Office in Moscow will in its reply indicate a consulate on the continent of Europe where the intending visitor can obtain the visa, in the case of the Soviet authorities deciding to grant one.

This is the solution of the problem which has presented itself to the Canadian public since the Soviet Trade Delegation left the country, in consequence of the breach of relations between Canada and Soviet Russia.

It is not advisable for any prospective visitor to Soviet Russia, it is stated, to leave Canada until he has a definite promise of a visa.

TWO MEN KILLED BY GOVERNOR'S TRAIN

Lord Willingdon's Special Struck Car Stalled on Track in New Brunswick

Accident Occurred at Mortimer; One Victim Leaves Family

Moncton, N.B., July 22.—John Lamkie of Harcourt, Kent County, N.B., and Archibald McEachern, Salem, Mass., were instantly killed when their car, which stalled on a Canadian National Railway crossing was struck by the Governor-General's special train about forty-one miles west of Moncton.

McEachern, who was spending a vacation here, leaves a widow and two children in Salem, Mass.

Lamkie was a young unmarried man.

The car occupied by the two men was crossing the track at Mortimer, about a mile west of Harcourt, and stalled immediately in front of Lord Willingdon's special train, being hit and smashed into fragments before the occupants had time to jump. The train was stopped. When the crew reached the scene of the tragedy both men were dead.

EX-COUNCILLOR IS ORDERED TO PRISON

In Vancouver Judge Finds A. Lomas, Burnaby, Guilty of False Pretences

Vancouver, July 22.—Convicted of obtaining by false pretences, $6,380 from Mrs. Annie Birkett, Cambie Street, Arthur Lomas, former Burnaby councillor, was sentenced in country court here to-day by Judge Ruggles, to three years' imprisonment with hard labor in the New Westminster penitentiary.

"It looks as if the money will never be returned," remarked the judge when pointing out that it was beyond dispute that Mrs. Birkett had advanced the money to Lomas.

ALL DENIED

Numerous representations were alleged to have been made by the accused for the purpose of inducing Mrs. Birkett to part with her $6,380 and Lomas denied them all, said the judge. One was that he was a barrister, another that he was wealthy, worth from $45,000 to $250,000; again, that he gave $5,000 to the church; also, he flashed large cheques and contracts and he promised them large returns. The latter representation did not affect the charge, said the judge, because

When The Movies Come Here, Cables, Comics, Fiction, Features in Times Saturday

When the movies come to Victoria! Canada has supplied artists that have made the greatest contributions to the film industry. Will they now find opportunities at home? This is a subject of particular interest at the present moment that is discussed in to-morrow's big issue of The Times.

"Burned Out," by J. H. Shirley, is only a half page story but every line grips. It deals with a prairie fire in Southern Saskatchewan.

Arnold Bennett is the author of the full page story, "The Woman Who Stole Everything."

"Glaciers and Lighthouse" are discussed by Robert Connell, the noted Victoria and Island naturalist.

"Confederation Fathers and the Growth of Canadian Nationality" forms the theme of Prof. W. T. Allison's book review.

"The Flight Across the Continent"—"Stillman Heir and His Cinderella to Wed Among Canadian Woodsfolk," are among many other interesting articles. The Times special weekly cable service from across the Atlantic, a page for the children, a page for women, special sport features, a page of church news, fashions and four pages of comics, are but a few more items in the big magazine section.

BALDWIN TO STUDY PLAINS WHEAT SALES

British Premier Soon to Mix With Optimists of Canadian Prairies

To Sail From England To-morrow, He Addresses Lincolnshire Audience

Lincoln, Eng., July 22 (Canadian Press Cable).—Premier Stanley Baldwin, in a speech here to-day at a rally of the Conservative Association of Lincolnshire at Hainton Hall, Lord Heneage's place, referred to his forthcoming visit to Canada. The speaker said:

"I am going to participate in the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation there, and, I may add, my own Diamond Jubilee too." (Premier Baldwin was born August 3, 1867).

The Premier mentioned he would visit Winnipeg during his tour of Canada and said:

"I wonder how many of you have followed what the farmers of Canada have done. For years they were 'monkeyed' about by dealers and speculators in wheat, but in less than five years the market methods in Western Canada have been revolutionized and depression has given place to optimism. That is one reason why I am going there. I want to be among the optimists for a week or two.

DIRECTED BY FARMERS

"All this has been done by the farmers themselves. Confronted by the slump following the post-war boom, they consulted together and formed a pool of the great wheat-producing provinces and this pool was governed by the farmers. They disposed of 212,000,000 bushels of grain grown on 14,000,000 acres of land, or seventy per cent of the total crop of the whole Dominion. That gigantic effort by self-help and keen work saved thousands of Canadian farmers from disaster.

"A movement like that has its critics, but it is authoritatively claimed for it that it prevented the glutting of the market, smoothed out the prices and ruled out the unnecessary middlemen."

TO SAIL TO-MORROW

Premier Baldwin, who will travel in the same liner as the Prince of Wales and Prince George, is to leave England to-morrow for Canada.

"Your problems at home are less in magnitude but much more complicated in detail, and I should like to see them faced with the same kind of organized and co-operative business ability as that with which your brothers in Canada have tackled their problems."

IN DENSE FOG TUGS HUNTING FOR HULK CARRYING DYNAMITE

Vessel Rammed by Freighter and Abandoned is Drifting Off Golden Gate

San Francisco, July 22—No trace of the dynamite-laden schooner Northland had been found at 9 a.m. to-day, though several tugs and United States coast-guard cutters felt about the Golden Gate in a dense fog, not knowing whether they were to strike the submerged hulk of the menacing vessel themselves.

The Northland was rammed last night by the British freighter Pacific Trader. Her crew of thirty men was taken aboard the freighter because it was feared the collision, which caused a hole to be stove in her bow, would set off the forty tons of dynamite and two and one-half tons of fulminating caps.

VESSELS WARNED

All vessels were warned of the Northland's position as she was abandoned. A heavy fog prevailed all night and this morning. Inbound vessels, warned of the dangers by cutters, remained outside.

The Northland, owned by the Charles Nelson Steamship Company of San Francisco, was en route to Puget Sound.

SUCCESS OF PORT BOARD IS REPORTED

Portland Harbor Commission's Achievements Interest Convention in Vancouver

Vancouver, July 22—Success attained in twenty-five years of the Port of Portland Commission, a body of fifteen citizens serving without remuneration, was outlined in an address this morning before the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Port Authorities here by H. L. Hudson, general traffic manager of the Port of Portland, Oregon.

Municipal co-operation in development of waterfront commerce in Portland had been fully justified, Mr. Hudson declared. In 1920 Portland was served by six steamship lines, four to California and two United States Shipping Board freight lines on an irregular Oriental service. Now there were fifty-three regular lines calling there. In 1919 there were 467 deep-sea ships shown to have entered the port. In 1926 the total was 1617.

SAVINGS REPORTED

The port authority was estimated to have saved producers forty cents per 100 pounds on a coastwise traffic of 646,784 tons during 1926. This saving was estimated on a basis saved by using the water haul as against rail. On all commerce through the port it was estimated the port authority had saved the business men a round figure of $23,000,000 in 1926 alone. Since its creation in 1891 the port commission had spent $16,000,000 in development. Its assets in equipment and lands were estimated at $4,863,544. The dock commission had issued bonds for $10,000,000 and had property now that was estimated to be worth $12,000,000.

HEIGHT OF BRIDGES

Major W. G. Swan, B.A., Sc., C.E., consulting engineer and former chief engineer of the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners, delivered a paper on the problem of bridges over ocean harbors and their approaches, during which he gave it as his opinion that it was high time some definite understanding was reached between shipping and other interests whereby a definite limit to overhead clearances should be established. This could be very well established by a joint decision from the naval and public works departments of the major maritime powers, and he further suggested that the convention of port authorities he was addressing could do a great service if it would pass and forward to the Association of World Ports a tentative resolution along these lines.

BRITISH NAVY REDUCTION PLANS TO BE STATED

Report on Cruiser Problem Which Deadlocked Geneva Conference Given to Premier Baldwin and Ministers in London To-day by Bridgeman and Cecil; United States Is Holding Out for Eight-inch Guns and Larger Cruisers

London, July 22.—Public interest here to-day was centred on the meeting of the Cabinet called especially to consider the report of the two chief British delegates to the Three-Power Naval Reduction Conference at Geneva. Right Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, who came from Geneva Wednesday, spent a good part of yesterday conferring with permanent officials of the Admiralty, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and some members of the Committee of Imperial Defence. This committee was largely responsible for the framing of the British plan as submitted at Geneva and for the general instruction given to the British delegates.

Viscount Cecil, who returned with Mr. Bridgeman, also had important interviews with some of the Cabinet Ministers.

FIRM ATTITUDE REPORTED

Nothing official could be learned respecting the views of the Ministers, but according to some political writers there are certain members who are strongly disinclined to budge from Great Britain's position on the cruiser question as enunciated at Geneva.

The newspapers had little to say about the matter to-day. The London Morning Post, Conservative, being the only one to comment.

"It is indeed difficult," it said, "to perceive by what means an agreement with the United States may be reached as long as the United States delegates urge Great Britain to reduce her fleet in order to suit the exigencies of American domestic politics."

ATTITUDE OF UNITED STATES

Geneva, July 22.—The United States delegation to the Three-Power Naval Limitation Conference here remains firm in upholding the Washington proposal to build cruisers armed with eight-inch guns, according to information in reliable quarters.

Furthermore, it is understood that in taking this stand, described as needed to meet United States naval requirements, the delegates advocate cruisers large enough to carry a battery of six eight-inch guns instead of merely one or two. Naval experts here estimate that a cruiser carrying six eight-inch guns should have a displacement of 8,300 tons.

BRITISH PROPOSAL

The British delegates have been insisting on limiting secondary cruisers to 6,000 tons, with no guns larger than six-inch calibre. Should the British delegates return from their present visit to London with a mandate from their Government to uphold that demand, it is feared in some conference circles that a definite breaking off of the negotiations might ensue.

Belief is expressed here that it has been intimated to the British Government that the United States delegates are determined, whatever may be the outcome, to insist upon the liberty to construct whatever type of cruiser the United States may deem essential for her naval needs.

SWAN NAMED TO CONDUCT WATER INVESTIGATION

Leading Vancouver Engineer Appointed by Pattullo For Interior Inquiry

Widest Possible Scope Provided For Examination of Water Problems

William G. Swan, prominent Vancouver consulting engineer, was appointed by the Government to-day as sole commissioner to investigate the irrigation problems of interior British Columbia fruit-growing districts.

Carrying out the promise of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, to conduct a full inquiry into the condition of the irrigated districts of the interior, Mr. Swan will start work with public hearings immediately.

WIDE COMMISSION

The commission which will be issued to Mr. Swan as a result of an order-in-council passed by the Cabinet this morning is of the widest possible scope. He will be able to conduct a complete investigation of irrigation problems in every irrigation area in which the Government is interested financially by reason of the advance of public moneys.

The districts in which the Government is interested practically blanket the Okanagan Valley and extend also into the Grand Forks fruit country. In all these districts Mr. Swan will meet irrigationists and hear their views on water questions.

Mr. Pattullo's action in arranging for this inquiry follows the request of fruit growers for an examination of the rates charged them for water. They assert that they have to pay too much for irrigation facilities and this question of price will be one of the chief subjects of Mr. Swan's investigation.

$1,000,000 to be Used to Reduce Debt of Eastern Province

Quebec, July 22.—Quebec's financial gains during the fiscal year ended June 30 exceeded all expectations, the surplus exceeding last year's by $1,500,000.

Premier Taschereau to-day gave out the official statistics of the province for the year 1926-27, and they show the gross surplus was $3,045,053.08, as against $1,520,146.75 last year. This year, as last, $1,000,000 will be utilized for the reduction of the debt of the province. Alice Arm Dispatch Says it is Feared A. Stratford Was Drowned

Alice Arm, B.C., July 22.—Arthur Stratford, forty, an employee of the Toric Mine, who has been missing for almost a week, is believed to have been drowned in the Kitsault Canyon. The depth of the canyon and the present high water make recovery of the body doubtful.

When last seen Stratford was carrying a bag of nails from the mine toward the powerhouse, about a mile and a half away. The road runs along the side of the canyon. Searchers found the bag of nails at the edge of the canyon. It is believed Stratford stumbled and fell from the side of the road.

Pioneer Chinese of Province Dies

Vancouver, B.C., July 22.—Expressing a last wish that his remains be buried in Canada, his adopted country, Yip Sang, pioneer Chinese contractor and merchant who helped build the C.P.R. in British Columbia, passed away shortly before midnight Wednesday at his home, 51 Pender Street East. He is survived by nineteen immediate relatives in the city.

In voicing his wish, the well-known Vancouver Oriental leader abandoned the custom of his forefathers, for it is an almost ironclad rule that bodies of Chinese who pass away in foreign lands must be returned to the fatherland.

Yip Sang, who was looking forward to his eighty-second birthday on October 22, left China forty-five years ago, and reached San Francisco after a two months voyage by sailing ship. He came to British Columbia immediately and settled in New Westminster, which was then the principal settlement on the mainland.

One of the most striking figures of to-day, Ignace J. Paderewski, who renounced his career as one of the world's greatest pianists to take over the reins of government of his native land, Poland, in her hour of crisis and subsequently shed his role of successful statesman to return to his beloved music, arrived in the motor liner Aorangi last evening from Australasia.

The Antipodes was the setting in which Paderewski chose to make his triumphal reappearance on the concert stage after his years as a leading figure in the European political arena, and the tumultuous receptions which greeted him "down under" were a tribute to the versatility of this composite genius.

GOING TO CALIFORNIA

Accompanied by Mme. Paderewski, formerly the Baroness Rosen, the great

Ignace Paderewski

artist,

Paderewski is now on his way to California to take a needed rest after his arduous tour. Asked last night if he intended playing in this city, he was non-committal.

"I will not say I won't, nor will I say I will," he declared. "At present I am on my way to take a short rest at our California home. Later I shall go East and thence across to Europe."

Paderewski was last heard in this city in 1908.

FINE PERSONALITY

The manor and charm of the perfect statesman, the gifted diplomat, radiates from his personality. The temperament of the artist is there but under control. During the voyage from the Antipodes the great pianist made himself beloved of all on the boat, from the more notable passengers down to the lowly deck-boy. One evening, in response to numerous requests from his fellow passengers, he sat at the piano in the social hall of the motorship and for an hour and a half entertained with many of his own compositions, executed in his artistic and inimitable style.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT?

To the Editor:—The question of diet is uppermost in the minds of many. The question is still being asked, "What shall we eat?" Let us take a concrete example of the most outstanding man in current history, possibly the master mind of political Europe to-day, Mussolini, a man of thrilling energy and outstanding force. While we may not agree with him in his supression of the liberty of the press, and definitely disagree with his conception of the modern state, yet the man of easy life, high color, thick neck, flourishing abdomen and double chin, who follows the menu through, washes it down with a glass of whisky and concludes with a cup of strong coffee, had better consider the ways of Mussolini and be wise.

The diet scheme of this man has not been dictated by a physician or a diet crank, but through his own experience, has come to a conclusion of what is the best for his mental and physical vigor.

Breakfast: A glass of milk.

Lunch: 2 p.m. A simple piece of meat or fish, roasted or fried with green vegetables simply boiled, and one glass of milk. He then drives to his work at the Piazza Chigi and works without food till 6 p.m., when he has another glass of milk.

After ceasing work at 10 p.m., he has another glass of milk and a dish of fruit.

This is the food that he finds adapted to his needs as a brain worker. But he sees further than himself. Bread he rarely takes himself, but he recognizes that for the great mass of the people it is still the "staff of life," and with the predominating purpose to improve the people and restore Italy to its former glory. He desired to make that staff as strong as possible, and by one stroke of his dictatorial pen, abolished white bread from the kingdom. He was requested to allow the manufacture of white bread under special circumstances, but he remained adamant, and now there is in Italy but one bread for rich and poor, and that is made from coarse flour resembling our whole meal; and best of all, the people have received it with enthusiasm. Here is a case of benevolent despotism. When we have a Mussolini we may hope to deal with cancer. Could we not bear a prohibition measure with regard to food with equal grace to that of drink?

STRANGE TALES OF SCHOONER EXPLODED

New York, July 22.—A mysterious murder of a woman at sea alone remained of the many strange tales that preceded the four-masted schooner Kingsway half way around the world.

The schooner was slowly making its way along the Jersey coast towards New York harbor yesterday, while two members of its crew, taken off by an armed Federal boarding party were being held in cells at New York police headquarters for questioning concerning the murder of the wife of one of them.

Stories of an unfettered dangerous prisoner, mutiny and sudden deaths that followed in the wake of the ship in its course along the African gold coast and across the Atlantic, fell before the scrutiny of United States district attorneys and coast guards.

Early Battice, twenty-four, a Porto Rican steward, and Carl Eadke, native of La Palma, Canary Islands, are the men held. The murdered woman, they said, was the wife of Battice, and was killed February 5, when the Kingsway was 300 miles southeast of Fogo, Africa. The body is believed to have been thrown overboard.

The death of Frederick Mortimer, the mate, which had been surrounded in mystery, was due to natural causes, the federal attorneys said. Mortimer died at sea, June 23, and was buried at Barbadoes.

New York, July 22.—The tale of the eight months' voyage of the schooner Kingsway to the African Gold Coast, as unraveled yesterday from two prisoners taken off at quarantine because of the murder on board of a woman, is a tale of violence, jealousy and intrigue.

The prisoners are Earl Battice, twenty-four, negro cook of Gulf Port, Miss., who is believed to have murdered his wife, and Karl Badka, donkey engine man whose attentions to the woman are believed to have led to her death.

Assistant United States Attorneys Mintzer and Simpson, who boarded the ship at quarantine and took off the two prisoners, questioned them as to the Kingsway turbulent voyage.

The cook's wife boasted to her husband of her liaison with Badka, said Mr. Mintzer, and he at first seemed indifferent even to aiding her in her affair. After ten days of brooding, however, Battice sought the captain's revolver, and failing to find it, borrowed a razor. With this weapon, the jealous cook slashed his wife's throat, Mintzer stated.

WIN FOR AMERICAN YACHT

Toronto, July 22.—The Algoeda, of the Rochester Yacht Club of Rochester, N. Y., captured the second of the three-race series for the Fisher Cup when, favored by a strong easterly wind, she defeated Cara Mia of the Canadian Yacht Club, Toronto, on an eighteen-mile triangular course here yesterday.

Cara Mia won the first race yesterday by a mile. The third race will be sailed to-morrow.

HUDSON'S BAY SHIP IS FAST ON ROCKS

Ss. Bay Rupert Reported Aground on Labrador Coast; On Supply Trip

St. Johns, Nfld., July 22.—Marconi's wireless station at Smoky, Labrador, received a "SOS" from the steamship Bay Rupert this morning, stating that she was fast on the rocks in latitude 55.9 north, longitude 59.59 west, or about half way up the Labrador coast.

Montreal, July 22.—The Bay Rupert, reported in Newfoundland dispatches as being ashore on the rocks half way up the Labrador coast, is owned by the Hudson's Bay Company. The head office of the company this morning said they had had no word of an accident, wireless messages yesterday from the ship reporting "all's well."

The Bay Rupert is a new British steamer of 2,415 tons. She sailed from Montreal on July 11 on her customary Summer trip to Hudson Bay with supplies for the company's posts in the bay.

FIVE AUTOISTS HURT

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Ship Speeds up And Hits Dock

Port Arthur, Ont., July 22.—A mistake in signals caused the steamer America to increase her speed instead of slacken up on approaching the dock here yesterday, the vessel crashing into the tug Violet C and piling up on the rocks near shore.

PRINCES TO LEAVE BRITAIN TO-MORROW

Two Royal Travelers and Premier Baldwin to Start Voyage to Canada

London, July 22.—"Travel light" is the slogan of the Prince of Wales, his brother, Prince George, Premier Baldwin and most of the others of the party of thirty prepared to start on a trip to Canada to-morrow.

The total number of pieces of baggage sent to-day to be loaded in the steamship Empress of Australia is 100. The baggage of the Prince of Wales includes two uniforms, while Prince George has one naval outfit. Both young world travelers, through previous experience, have confined the rest of their needs to an absolute minimum. Premier Baldwin will have many official functions to attend, but he managed to get his things into two trunks, a small grip and a hat box, stowing away several pipes in odd corners at the last moment. Mrs. Baldwin packed her wardrobe in three trunks.

The Prince of Wales and Prince George will dine with their parents at Buckingham Palace to-night, when private farewells will be said. The King will go to the Waterloo Station to-morrow to give his sons an official send-off.

London, July 22 (Canadian Press Cable)—The parties of the Prince of Wales and Premier Stanley Baldwin, who are to leave England to-morrow for their Canadian tour, will each number fifteen persons. Sir Lionel Halsey, controller of the Prince's household, Brigadier-General G. H. Trottier, Captain Alan Lascelles and Major the Hon. Piers Legh will be in attendance on the Prince, and the party will also include the Prince's two valets, servants and members of his staff and two Scotland Yard detectives. The Prince of Wales and Prince George, his youngest brother, will share valets so as to restrict the size of the party, and no footmen will be taken along.

BUILDING OF 'TUBES' IN CHICAGO PLANNED

Chicago, July 22.—A new plan to provide $600,000,000 worth of subways for Chicago, one of the few large cities in the world without underground tubes, has been announced by Alderman Leonard J. Grossman.

The alderman says a Chicago financial group with which he has been working is prepared to construct 131 miles of subways at $2,225,000 a mile, provided a fifty-year franchise for operation of the tubes can be obtained from the city. At the end of the fifty years, Alderman Crossman says, the subways would be turned over to the city without cost.

Will of Late King of the Roumanians Is Made Public

Berlin, July 22.—A Bucharest dispatch gives what purports to be the will of the late King Ferdinand. Dated June 2, 1925, it leaves a country estate and a house in Bucharest to each of the daughters, except the Queen of Jugoslavia, who is to receive her share in cash and securities. Queen Marie, the widow, is to receive the Cotroceni Palace and the Peles Palace, near Sinaia, the latter as her residence for life.

The part of the will relating to former Crown Prince Carol was changed January 2, 1926, by a codicil whereby the boy king, Michael I, Carol's son, is to receive the balance of the royal estate. Carol will receive only his lawful share in cash and securities.

The will also leaves 50,000,000 lei to charity.

Newspaper Ruling By California Court

San Francisco, July 22.—The "general circulation" of a newspaper and not its contents determines the status of the publication, so declared the District Court of Appeal in a decision filed yesterday, sustaining the San Mateo County Superior Court in finding The South San Francisco Journal and Daily News a newspaper of general publication.

Dean J. Coovert, plaintiff, attacked the status of the paper. John E. Poyle, publisher, maintained the amount of a newspaper's "boiler plate" contents had nothing to do with the case.

The court held that all modern newspapers used a great deal of syndicate material, and that the test of the paper was its place of publication.

New Wills Act in Force in Alberta

Edmonton, July 22—The Alberta Wills Act, passed at the last session of the Legislature has been proclaimed and is now in effect. It provides for three classes of wills which will be considered as valid, namely, those signed and attested in the usual way, holograph wills (wholly in the handwriting of the testator) with or without witnesses, and wills of members of the naval, military, air, or marine forces. The act includes a provision that every will shall be revoked by the marriage of the testator except where it is declared in the will that such marriage is contemplated or where the will is made in exercise of a power of appointment.

Sacco Posters in Geneva Torn Down

Geneva, July 22—Police last night passed through this city and destroyed all the inflammatory posters which had been put up as a protest against the execution of Nicolo Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti at Boston, set for the end of July.

Yesterday a Communist was arrested charged with putting up such posters without authorization.

As a result of the agitation in connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case the United States consulate here requested protection for Hugh Gibson, chief delegate of the United States at the Three-Power Naval Conference

THE RESULTS OF ADVERTISING

FOR THE WEEK OF BUSINESS ENDING at noon yesterday the bank clearings in the city of Victoria amounted to $2,972,434. For the corresponding week of last year the total reached $2,553,769—an increase of $418,665.

There would not be very much significance in an increase of banking business for one week. Special financing might easily swell the figures. But weekly increases have been pretty generally the rule ever since the late Fall of 1925.

This is the time of year when Victoria business increases by reason of the very considerable amount of shopping which tourists do in the city. It furnishes practical proof that one of the best investments the city makes every year is the spending of money to advertise this community.

It would not be surprising if the holiday season this year should be worth something like $5,000,000 to Victoria. It has grown every year since an organized effort began to be made to market our attractions with the travelling public.

The tourist business is one of our most important industries. Among the many who visit Victoria every year there always are numbers who are looking for a new place of residence, or somewhere to put capital to work. Victoria will get its share of these people as long as it keeps itself before them by means of judicious advertising.

THE FIRE SEASON

WE ARE REMINDED BY THE FOREST branch of the provincial Department of Lands that the hot and dry spell which seems to have settled down upon the Province for a fairly lengthy stay already is causing the forest fire fighting services some uneasiness.

It is not a simple matter to discover new ways of telling the people who use the forests of British Columbia to be very careful what they do with lighted matches, cigar or cigarette ends, or fire of any description when they are in or near wooded areas. The injunction of the Department, moreover, applies to practically everybody. Our forests are in almost as much danger from the careless smoker on the observation car of a railway train, in the automobile traveling along the country road, as they are from the careless camper who fails to see that his fire has been completely extinguished.

Facts and figures published from time to time show that it is not the expansion of our timber industry which is at the bottom of any apprehension that may exist in respect of the so-called depletion of our forest wealth; it is the needless destruction of valuable timber, mature and otherwise, caused by the carelessness of our own people.

Too often is it forgotten also that a fire in the forest not only destroys the timber itself, but damages the soil to such an extent that it no longer is of much value. But if our people would exercise as much care with fire out of doors as they do in their own homes, the annual forest ash heap would be much smaller.

JUST A LITTLE OUT

THE SEATTLE POST-INTELLIGENCER makes a funny reference to the visit of the German training ship Emden, which synchronizes also with the visit of a number of United States warships to Puget Sound waters. It is as follows:

"There will be men aboard (the U.S. ships) who knew and hunted the original Emden, mother of this training ship—men who laid submarines and mines to trap her. They will be among the most eager to see the reincarnation of the German curse of the seas, a friendly and a peaceful craft to-day.

"Lieut.-Commander P. T. Wright of the U. S. S. West Virginia remembers when the Emden was an unholy terror. He wasn't on the West Virginia then but played with a spunky flock of submarines off the Irish coast. He crossed and recrossed the path of the Emden, sometimes fleeing from her, sometimes chasing her, trying to trap her while the lanes were being cleared for convoys. He knew the original Emden by sight as well as reputation, and now he wants to know her offspring, the naval training ship of 1927."

Most people know, of course, that the Emden never was off the Irish Coast. After she escaped from Tsingtau in China she made for the Indian Ocean and finally was sunk by the Australian cruiser Sydney November 10, 1914.

LESSONS OF THE FIGHT

SEVERAL LESSONS WERE EMPHASized in the fight between Dempsey and Sharkey. One is that a large part of the human family still has its primitive impulses on occasions, just as it had them twenty centuries ago in Rome, when it packed the Coliseum and howled in frenzy as gladiators hacked one another to pieces. The huge crowd in the New York stadium yesterday represented every stratum of society, just as similar combats in London and Paris have drawn spectators from every walk of life in the Old World. Beyond the actual scene of the fight, and throughout the world, countless millions awaited the result with equal interest and excitement. People who would not go near an arena of this kind, no matter what opportunities they had of doing so, followed the fight by telegraph or radio just as eagerly as those who saw it.

Another lesson is the fickleness of public opinion. A few years ago Dempsey was the most unpopular athlete on earth. As a champion he was admired for his fighting ability but was disliked personally. But when he lost the championship, gave his conqueror the full credit for his victory and offered no excuses for himself, he immediately became a popular idol. Yesterday the crowd which hissed him a few years ago cheered him as it never cheered a fistic gladiator before.

Finally, there is the lesson given by Dempsey himself. He was eight years older than his opponent and this alone was a heavy handicap. That he was able to overcome that handicap was due very largely to the fact that he always has been a clean-living man, he never has drunk liquor or used tobacco, and he always has been temperate in eating. That was the foundation upon which yesterday he broke all ring precedents by "coming back" in the face of the formidable onslaughts of a young and powerful opponent.

In this lies the most illuminating lesson of all.

SIXTY YEARS OF BANKING

THE LITTLE BROWN TEAPOT ON A shelf, the old stocking tucked away in a mattress, had long ceased to be the only popular banks when this Dominion was formed. They had never contained very much, for money was scarce in pioneer days. The farmers, who were the bulk of the population, exchanged their produce direct for the goods they needed. And the banks, from the time when they were established among us—the Bank of Montreal was the first, in 1817—won the confidence of the people who had money to deposit. That confidence was generally deserved and, though a number of banks have failed, the nature of the Canadian Banking system and the increasing precautions imposed by law have given the public a very high degree of security.

The first Bank Act passed by the Dominion Government, in 1871, provided for a limitation of dividends until a reasonably large reserve fund had been accumulated, and decreed that at least one-third of the cash reserve must be in Dominion Government notes. That proportion was raised to four per cent. in 1881; then, also, the holder of a bank note was given first claim on the assets of the issuing bank. Such notes of $5 and upwards form the bulk of the money we use. Dominion Government notes of various denominations up to $50,000 are issued, but the large denominations are rarely seen except in Bank and Government vaults. Government notes are redeemable in gold. This law was suspended during the War, but on July 1, 1926, gold payments were resumed.

The Bank Act of 1891 established a Bank Note Redemption Fund, by which all banks were liable, in proportion to their own note circulation, to make up the deficiency of any bank unable to redeem its notes. Since then no bank failure has caused the loss of a dollar to any note holder.

Between 1881 and 1926 the number of our banks has been reduced from 36 to 11, by the weeding out of the weaker or their amalgamation with stronger banks. This has increased the security given by the banks as a whole, without reducing the banking facilities available to the public through our branch bank system.

The number of bank branches in Canada has risen from 123 at Confederation to 1,145 in 1905, 3,198 in 1916, and 3,784 in 1927. Every branch is backed by the whole resources of the parent bank.

The bank notes in circulation have increased between 1867 and 1926 from $9,346,086 to $168,885,995, and bank assets from $78,294,770 to $2,864,019,213.

The deposits in Canadian banks in 1867 amounted to $31,375,316. On December 31, 1926, they stood at $1,981,652,000 with an additional $334,458,000 in branches alone.

The volume of business done in Canada through our banks as shown by cheques paid, amounted last year to $30,358,000,000.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

AN EDITOR'S LAST WORD

From The Ottawa Journal

Knowing that he was about to die, and facing the future with all the courage of his life, an editor reviewed his work and wrote a final message which was read at his funeral a week later. This is what he said:

"My surroundings and circumstances are entirely new and unusual. I am lying on a strange cot in a strange room surrounded by people, who, a week ago, I did not know. So likewise are the thoughts that come crowding into my mind and the theme that forces itself upon me for this, my last editorial. Hitherto, my thoughts have been of time and timely interests. My themes have been of policies, civic, provincial and federal. Now, as I lie, facing eternity, all these thoughts have passed away and their place is taken by an all absorbing one—"What's the use of all these things for eternity?" and the theme that forces itself upon me now is, 'In view of eternity, what policy should one follow?'

"If in the past, by my editorials, I have brought you any good or in any small way added to your happiness, kindly readers and friends, now I pray God, whom I am about to meet, that this, my last message, do you much good and help you to a happy death and a happier eternity."

The editor was John Markey, his paper The Sentinel-Review of Woodstock, Ontario. He was a gallant soul, a gentleman unafraid, a tolerant and far-sighted critic of life, an honest and a brilliant writer, a lifelong student of literature and the arts, a man who knew the best and the worst in human nature and found there much that his generous nature could admire. No one can estimate the power for good of such a personality, and far beyond the confines of the city where he lived and labored the beneficent influence of his character has been carried. John Markey was as great in death as he was in life.

Do You Mean What You Say?

"ON THE CARPET"

When a mischievous young urchin is called before a stern parent or school principal to explain his latest misdemeanor he is said to be called "on the carpet." In army parlance the enlisted man or officer who is ordered to report to his superior for discipline is called "on the mat." Both phrases trace their origin to the ancient days of enthroned kings and emperors. Upon the rug or mat at the foot of the throne all culprits from courtiers to slaves prostrated themselves while awaiting the verdict of life or death from their lord and master.

CONFEDERATION AND AFTER

Sixty Years of Progress

NO. 54

THE GREAT LAKES

In our water-borne commerce, the Great Lakes, Superior, Huron, Erie and Ontario, with the River St. Lawrence, link the Canadian West with the Atlantic Ocean. They are navigated by vessels of a special type, drawing from twelve to twenty feet of water, and calling at the remotest points on the Great Lakes. Some of these vessels carry passengers between the United States and Canada.

A large part of the grain crop of Western Canada passes down the Great Lakes, and is transhipped at the ports of Montreal, Buffalo, New York or Portland for export to Europe.

In traversing Lake Superior, a vessel covers 400 miles; on Lake Huron and Georgian Bay, 620 miles; on Lake Erie, 200 miles; on Lake Ontario, 250 miles.

The principal Canadian ports on the Great Lakes are Fort William and Port Arthur. At these two ports the vessels are loaded with wheat from the West, consigned to England via Montreal. The voyage from Fort William to Quebec is 1,660 miles.

The development of transportation on the Great Lakes has given an incalculable impetus to the production of grain in Western Canada. This is one of the advances upon which Canadians may congratulate themselves on the occasion of the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation.

The total length of Mississippi and its chief tributary, the Missouri, is about 4,250 miles. The river proper is navigable from the Gulf to the Falls of St. Anthony, at Minneapolis.

it related to the future, whereas representations should concern the present or past.

It seemed peculiar why such a large cheque, $19,000, should have been given Mrs. Birkett by Lomas in return for her $6,380, said the judge.

"A lot of us would like to make money like that," he added, when explaining he was impressed with the size of the cheque.

The cheque was worthless.

STATEMENTS BELIEVED

In conclusion Judge Ruggles stated he believed Lomas had made the representations and he found Mrs. Birkett had believed what Lomas had represented and had parted with her money on that basis.

Although a defence witness, Rosenthal, whose evidence had been taken by the judge prior to the trial because he was leaving for Cuba, testified liquor had been taken to Mrs. Birkett's house, Judge Ruggles remarked that he was not impressed with Rosenthal's evidence. He added that Mrs. Birkett and her husband had denied liquor had been taken to their house.

STAY OF PROCEEDINGS

A stay of proceedings was entered after Judge Ruggles had pronounced a verdict of guilty to a second charge pending against Lomas. This charged the former councillor with the theft of the $6,380 by applying the money to his own purposes after Mrs. Birkett had directed him to invest the fund for her.

J. P. Hogg appeared for the prosecution and Lorne Jackson defended.

A magnificent display of midsummer flowers was arrayed before the judges at the opening in the Crystal Garden this afternoon of the annual flower show of the Victoria and District Gardeners' Association. Mayor J. C. Pendray formally opened the display.

The display this year surpasses all expectations, both in regard to the quality of the exhibits and their number. One of the finest groups of sweet peas ever to be seen in Victoria is on exhibition this afternoon, sixty entries having been received by the secretary. A twenty-five per cent increase of entries over previous shows has been received this year.

A number of trade displays and non-competitive displays are shown. Among those who have trade displays are the Rockhome Garden; R. M. Palmer of Cobble Hill; George Robinson, Elk Lake; the Government of British Columbia, and Fred Cousins of Gordon Head.

Judges for the floral section of the show are A. Nichols, Benvenuto; W. J. Sheppard, Victoria; while P. W. Anketell Jones of Chemainus and E. W. White, district horticultiurst, will judge the fruit and vegetable display.

LUMBER EXPERTS IN TORONTO NAMED TO ADVANCE B.C. SALE

Pattullo Appoints Two Officials to Press Marketing of Western Woods

Pressing the sale of British Columbia wood products in Eastern Canadian markets, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, has appointed M. M. Little of the Lands Department, Lumber Trade Commissioner with headquarters in Toronto.

At the same time J. T. Lynde was named assistant commissioner. Mr. Lynde, who has been Mr. Pattullo's secretary for some time, and who is an expert in the lumber business, will leave for the East shortly.

The appointment of Mr. Little, who has been in Toronto in the Government lumber trade office there for some time, was formally ratified by the Cabinet this week along with the appointment of Mr. Lynde.

TRADE INCREASED

Through the offices in Toronto Mr. Pattullo has been able to popularize British Columbia lumber and other forest products in the East in a big way, and to secure large additional business for the lumber industry of this Province. Eastern users of these products are kept in touch with British Columbia lumber, while the industry here is advised of the requirements of the Eastern market.

Canada Leads U.S. In Farm Implement Sale to Australia

Canada continues to hold its predominating position as exporter of agricultural implements to Australia, a report of Trade Commissioner D. H. Ross, received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce shows.

This position, he says, has been obtained by supplying implements suitable for the varied requirements of the Australian states, combined with the expert selling organization of branch houses and capable and experienced agents.

For the last three years Canada's export of agricultural machinery to Australia has totaled £290,893, £387,205 and £376,502. Importations from the United States in the same years have amounted to £283,625, £280,866 and £262,322.

ALDERMAN INVITES BEAUTY LOVERS TO GAY BEGONIA SHOW

There is something out at the civic nursery at Beacon Hill Park that Victoria is very proud of.

It is the collection of begonias. "Never has this collection looked so wonderful as at this time and never have I seen a collection anywhere to surpass it," said Alderman John Harvey, head of the city's parks committee.

Alderman Harvey this afternoon issued an open invitation to all flower and beauty lovers to visit the nursery and view the collection.

"No one should miss the chance of seeing these flowers as they are at their peak," the alderman added.

CANADIAN SCOTTISH

No 2 Company, Canadian Scottish Regiment, will assemble at the Armories on Bay Street at 7.15 o'clock, Saturday evening, to proceed to the ordnance wharf at Esquimalt, whence they will be transported to Rod Hill to take up a defensive position there for the sham battle.

PARK DELEGATES RETURN TO-DAY

John Baxter Re-elected Secretary-treasurer of International Group

Alderman John Harvey, chairman of the parks board, and Victoria delegates are back in the city to-day, after attending the annual convention of the International Association of Park Commissioners of the Pacific Coast, held in Vancouver at the first of the week. T. R. Purdey, park commissioner, and John Baxter, secretary-treasurer of the association, completed the list of delegates from the city.

In the election of officers Mr. Baxter was reappointed to the post of secretary-treasurer, and complimented on his work in preparation for one of the most successful conventions held by the group in recent years.

To The Times to-day Ald. Harvey told of the warm reception received by Victoria delegates, who were asked to explain the city's system of boulevard upkeep. Ald. Harvey told the delegates of the seventy miles of grassy sward lining Victoria's streets, and the means of financing the upkeep of the boulevards.

Delegates, in open discussion on a number of papers, urged the creation of a separate levy for park purposes, to take its place in all civic budgets along with water, sewerage, and other recognized levies.

Much of the convention time was taken up by discussion of playgrounds, this phase of park work coming into greater prominence yearly, it was stated, in the expression of public opinion leading to greater preparation for the youth of every community.

The delegates were entertained by the Vancouver Parks Board, and taken for drives about the Terminal City

RELAYING PIPELINE AT PARSON'S BRIDGE

City Waterworks Pressure to Be Increased by New Equipment

Under the direction of F. M. Preston, City Engineer, city workers are relaying the waterworks main bridging the gap at Parson's Bridge, in conformity with the line of the new concrete bridge under erection there by the Provincial Government. The line at this point carries the water supply for the city from the Sooke and Goldstream system.

Pressure in certain areas of the city will be increased shortly through the installation of new equipment to this end at Smith's Hill Reservoir. The equipment is now on hand, and will be installed shortly, leading to additional pressure for household services in many parts of the city.

Date of Tunney Fight Cause of Speculation Now

New York, July 22.—Possibility of a shake-up in heavyweight title fight plans loomed unexpectedly late to-day in an intimation from Jack Dempsey's friends that he would balk at fighting Gene Tunney in September, preferring to meet the champion next July after two or three more preliminary tests.

Later Tex Rickard declared there was no doubt Dempsey would fight Tunney for the title in September.

"The only thing Dempsey asked me to do was to make the fight as late as possible, but he is agreeable to a date around the middle of September," said the promoter.

Nearly Two Hundred Tourists There on Busiest Day This Summer

Averaging between thirty-five and forty cars a day since it opened, the Victoria Automobile Camp at Curtis Point, will probably reach the record of over 2,300 cars reached last Summer, Harold Palmer, secretary of the camp, reports.

To-day there are over 100 campers from a dozen different states of the United States and Eastern province of Canada. The number of Canadians visiting the Pacific Coast is more marked than in previous years.

The highest number of cars to pull into the camp this Summer was sixty, and since school closed in the United States the family parties have been arriving, and many of them are making the camp the big stopping place of their tours.

Wonderful Executive Ability Behind Organization of Local Tent City

One of the most potent signs of the times in relation to the changing status of women was in evidence at the Dominion Jubilee Guide Camp, which came to a close last evening. For a week 300 women of all ages attended the camp, subject to a discipline and routine almost military in character, everyone from the Camp Commandant to the lowliest Guide rising at the early notes of "reveille" and turning out her lights for bed at the last note of "taps," everyone entering into it with a spirit and enthusiasm which was remarkable.

Two decades ago it would have been almost impossible to visualize an undertaking which would involve several hundred women living under canvas together for a week, even had they been of similar age, but when it is considered that at the recent Jubilee Camp the youngest member was a Guide of only thirteen years of age and some of the eldest were grandmothers, the success of the undertaking is even more amazing.

The secret of the camp's success was the common bond which united each of the 300 individuals into one harmonious entity. This bond was the spirit of Guiding to which Princess Mary Viscountess Lascelles referred in her cabled greeting on the opening day, and which spirit animates the whole movement throughout the universe, an intangible link between women and girls of white, yellow and brown races.

To a visitor uninitiated into the mysteries of Guiding, the camp was a revelation. The organization which called for the maintenance of 300 women in a tent city for a week, and the smooth running of a daily programme in military precision was in itself a feat reflecting the highest executive ability on the part of the commandant and her corps of assistants.

The day's programme started with reveille at 7 o'clock and it speaks volumes for the enthusiasm of the campers that, in spite of the soporific effect of long days of exercise in the open air, there were no laggards in the morning. Breakfast at 8 o'clock was followed by camp duties at 8.30, in which everyone was allotted her particular "chore" and carried it out with cheery enjoyment. At 9.40 the whole camp assembled for colors and prayers, a most impressive ceremony each morning, in which girls and women of all creeds joined.

At 10 o'clock came practical training in groups, then at 11.30 swimming and games were entered into with evident pleasure. After dinner at 12.30, prepared by the camp cooks, the camp observed the old exhortation, "After dinner, rest a while," for 1.30 was set down on the routine as a rest period.

Recreation and social diversions in the afternoon were followed by supper at 6.30, country dancing at 7.30, cocoa at 9.30 and "taps" and lights out at 10.15. The routine was adhered to with as much rigidity by the visitor of high rank as by the humblest member of a Guide company.

Now the "captains and the kings" have departed, the crisp notes of command and the tramping of many feet have ceased, but there will long linger in Victoria the inspiring and ennobling memory of the little community which symbolized one of the most potent influences on the girlhood of to-day and the womanhood of to-morrow—the spirit of Guiding.

WORK ON BATHING POOL AT SOLARIUM HAS COMMENCED

Estimated Cost is $2,400, to Which Donations Are Solicited

It will doubtless interest the many friends of the Solarium, to know that work on the bathing pool has been commenced.

The pool will serve the triple purpose of limiting the depth of the water, and by so doing, ensure absolute safety to the children; of providing a smooth and even surface for paddling, and of conserving the water at high tide so that its temperature will be definitely and substantially raised.

It is estimated that the cost of the work will be about $2,400, and that it will be finished in time for use this Summer. Any assistance to cover this necessary expense will be most gratefully welcomed.

The Solarium is now practically full, with forty-two patients, and others to be shortly admitted. Applications for admission are being received almost daily.

The health of the children has improved greatly, and the directors are satisfied, by personal inspection, and from the reports of the honorable medical superintendent, that substantial and encouraging progress is being made in the restoration of health and physical well being of the children.

Any further information may be obtained from the city office, at 918 Government Street, Victoria. From this address also, passes are issued to those who desire to see for themselves the great benefits which the patients are deriving from a treatment, made possible by the generosity of the people of British Columbia.

Lodge Primrose Bazaar.—A bazaar shower for Lodge Primrose, Daughters and Maids of England, will be held to-night at the home of Mrs. McKenzie, 1124 McKenzie Street.

PRESERVES WANTED FOR SOLARIUM USE

The ladies of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Auxiliary take this opportunity of reminding the generous housekeepers of Victoria now that the preserving season is in full swing, that preserves will be needed for the little patients. Anyone who is willing, while making jam for home use, to fill one or more bottles for the Solarium, may, by calling at the office, 918 Government Street, obtain bottles which have been returned empty and are waiting to be refilled.

Discord at Angelus Temple Following Mrs. Kennedy's Dismissal

Los Angeles, July 22.—A crescendo of discord echoed within the Holy Precincts of Angelus Temple yesterday and fell upon the eardrums of the outer world.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, has been unseated as acting head of the Temple organization, and to-day has no authority over its affairs, declared Brother Bender, who claimed that he spoke for Rev. C. E. Jaynes, pastor of the Riverside branch and Sister McPherson's personal representative.

"Sister McPherson is president and I am vice-president, and in charge when she is absent," countered "Mother" Kennedy.

Rev. C. E Jaynes in his capacity of Mrs. McPherson's representative, outranks Mrs. Kennedy in authority, answered back the opposition.

"The so-called revolt in the church is by only six or eight members who are ambitious to further their own ends," was the retort of "Mother" Kennedy.

Both sides claim that "Sister" is on their side.

Rev. C. E. Jaynes intimated that dissension in the church was entirely between the daughter and mother.

To which "Mother" made answer: "It is only a few hours until Sister McPherson gets back from Chicago, and I have no fear of her decision then. Her mother has always been her best friend. Didn't her telegram which she sent me to-day from Omaha say to stand firm and not worry? The spirit of the church as a whole is splendid."

Passed Exams.—All pupils entered by Mrs. Marian MacGovern for the Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations were successful. They are as follows: Associate piano, pass, Bessie Waterhouse; primary piano honors, Ralph Moore; elementary theory, pass, Kathleen Brown and Angus Taylor; elementary theory, honors, Ralph Moore.

YOUR BABY and MINE by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

TEN POUNDS GOOD WEIGHT FOR TWO-MONTHS-OLD CHILD

Mrs. W. M. D. writes:

"I enjoy your interesting column so much. Would like to know the answers to these questions. The baby was two months old to-day and weighed eleven pounds, having weighed seven and one-half at birth. Is this a sufficient gain in weight?

I put her to bed at 8 o'clock and she sleeps until 4 the next morning. Would it be better to put her to bed earlier? Some of my friends put their babies to bed at 6 o'clock, but this seems too early to me after they have been asleep all day.

"Is belching of milk a sign of disordered digestion or of overfeeding? My baby belches a great deal with every nursing."

ANSWER

The baby has made a better than average gain, ten pounds being average weight at two months.

A baby can not sleep too much. If he sleeps eighteen to twenty hours out of the twenty-four that is so much the better. The baby's normal wakeful period will come from 4.30 or 5 until the bedtime at 6 o'clock, if the day begins at 6, otherwise the bedtime hour is 7. It is never wise to keep a baby awake in order that he will sleep better. It works just the other way, a baby who is put to bed at 6 or 7 will be a better sleeper always than the baby who learns to stay awake for long hours. Your friends are right.

If the baby spits up milk directly after nursing this indicates that he has taken too much into his stomach and it overflows. If the spitting up comes after about an hour or more of nursing it might indicate some digestive trouble, especially if the baby spits up hard lumps of curd or a watery liquid in which there are particles which look like cheese. Over-feeding might occasion this too because overfeeding is a tax on the digestion.

CONSTANT COLD FEET

Mrs. I. E. C. writes:

"My six-months-old baby weighed six pounds at birth and now weighs sixteen and has three teeth. She is happy and seems healthy. Why are her legs and feet always cold and sweaty no matter how warmly she is dressed? What is the remedy?"

ANSWER

If the baby is dressed so warmly that she perspires undoubtedly the feet would feel cool, because perspiration tends to cool the surface of the skin. In your endeavor to keep her hot in order to have her feet warm you are probably over-dressing her. Keep the baby cool. In hot weather it is nearly impossible to have on too few clothes. She may be wearing a tight binder and be bundled in clothes which give her no chance to exercise or more her legs about. This would certainly effect her circulation and cause cold feet.

RABIES REGULATIONS ENDED

Ottawa, July 22—The Department of Agriculture yesterday removed the rabies quarantine from the island of Montreal.

COURT REVERSES U.S. CUSTOMS RULE

U.S. Citizens in Canada Less Than Four Days Given Duty Exemption

New York, July 22.—A treasury department ruling designed to protect United States merchants from Canadian competition was reversed yesterday by the United States customs court, which decided that Americans remaining in Canada less than four or five days may return with $100 worth of merchandise duty free. The decision applies to citizens returning from Canada the same exemption as applies to those returning from "Abroad."

The case decided was brought by E. E. Goldsmith, consultant on immigration matters, who protested against paying duty on a table cloth purchased in Canada recently. He was upheld by Justice Young of North Dakota and Adamson of Georgia, while Justice Waite of Michigan, dissented.

"The decision will remove irritation along the Canadian border as to Americans who are buying Irish linens, English and Scotch woolens and English china and porcelain in Canada for souvenir and household use cheaper than in the United States," Mr. Goldsmith said.

Oxygen Used in Fight to Save Young Boy's Life

Chicago, July 22.—With oxygen as his weapon, Dr. Sheppard Remington, a Chicago physician, has for two weeks forced death back from the bedside of a two-and-a-half-year-old child whose lungs are pneumonia infected.

Albert Katzen, son of a furniture dealer, was stricken three weeks ago. Dr. Remington administered oxygen through a tube forced into the lungs through the throat.

Five days ago this method failed and general infection seemed to develop. A section of the child's ribs in the back were cut away and again oxygen by means of a needle was forced into the collapsed lungs.

Yesterday the baby's lungs answered to the cleaning, Dr. Remington said, and there is a possibility the child can recover.

Suit For $53,000 Brought by Head of Steel Company

San Francisco, July 22—E. M. Wilson, eighty-two, president of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, which has branches in Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, yesterday filed suit for $53,000 and an accounting against his former secretary, H. M. Cornyn, and Miss B. Weisblatt, Cornyn's secretary.

Wilson's complaint accuses Cornyn of "scheming" to get control of the steel company into his own hands by a systematic programme of having Wilson sign papers giving him undue authority. Among other matters alleged to have been engineered by the secretary was a transfer of $53,000 worth of stock to Miss Weisblatt.

WILKINS MAY TRY SOUTH POLE FLIGHT

San Francisco, July 22.—It appeared probable Commander Richard E. Byrd will have a competitor for the honor of being the first aviator to circle the South Pole.

Capt. George H. Wilkins of Detroit was in San Francisco yesterday conferring with an aeroplane maker about a plane suitable for a South Pole flight.

Neither the aeroplane manufacturer nor Wilkins would discuss the matter except for a laconic remark by the latter that his "plans are somewhat vague." He readily admitted, however, that he was contemplating a South Pole flight.

STORM CAUSES LOSSES

Estevan, Sask., July 22.—Lashed by wind, hail and rain, Estevan and the district north of the town experienced the worst storm in many years Wednesday evening. Damage of 100 per cent was done several grain crops of great promise. Telephone wires and poles were broken and roads submerged and trees and gardens smashed and destroyed.

ROBBERY TRIAL

Mineola, N.Y., July 22.—The trial of James F. Monahan, alias "Boston Bill" Williams, charged with participating in the $90,000 jewel robbery at the home of Jesse L. Livermore, was adjourned yesterday until Monday in the Nassau County Court.

FAREWELLS SAID AT JUBILEE CAMP

Tents Struck at University School Campus Last Night; Closing Addresses

With a tent-striking competition between the Guides from the various provinces to speed up the process, the inhabitants of the Dominion Jubilee Guide camp at the University School grounds folded their tents like the Arabs and silently stole away last evening. At least, the departure would have been silent but for the reiteration of expressions of regret at the end of a perfect week and the mingling of reluctant farewells, as the last of the visitors piled into tallyhos and private cars on their way to the midnight boat en route East.

FAREWELL ADDRESS

In her farewell address yesterday morning Mrs. Warren spoke eulogistically of Miss Behrens's work, saying, "to her we owe more than can be expressed in words. From her 'big sisterness' and her helpfulness we have all drawn a fuller understanding of Guiding. Our best thanks badge is not one that can be worn upon her uniform; it is something that must be carried deep in our hearts."

Miss Behrens spoke on the ten laws of the Guides, describing Guiding as a sisterhood of service. At the close of her address she was accorded an enthusiastic farewell. A souvenir in the form of a small Indian basket was presented to her by Miss Leighton on behalf of the camp, and all joined lustily in cheers in her honor. Miss Behrens departed by the morning boat for the mainland.

The 62nd Toronto Girl Rangers and their captain, Mrs. Ratcliffe, who are taking a six-weeks' camping tour, also departed at noon.

The afternoon was spent in visiting, many private invitations being received by the campers. Mrs. Genge, transport commissioner, entertained a large group at the Yacht Club, and Guiders from the interior were delighted with the boating in the beautiful bay.

Supper time was marked by original songs, Ontario Guiders and British Columbia orderlies winning the palm in a "Thanks" song addressed to the Misses Montgomery, Shepherd and Sutton, all from Imperial Headquarters, in which a speedy return visit was requested. Miss Montgomery replied for the English Guiders, and hearty cheers were given to them, and to Mrs. H. D. Warren, chief commissioner for Canada.

GUIDERS BEING ENTERTAINED ON MAINLAND TO-DAY

Busy Programme of Entertainment in Vancouver For Late Visitors at Jubilee Camp

Vancouver, July 22.—Mrs. J. Fyfe Smith, deputy provincial commissioner for the Girl Guide Association, has arranged a full programme of entertainment for the visiting Guides who are in the city to-day en route East after attending the Diamond Jubilee camp in Victoria. The Guides and Guiders left the boat at the Canadian Pacific pier at 9.30 a.m., when they were met by Mrs. Fyfe Smith, Mrs. Dallas Perry, Mrs. Hobbs, divisional secretary; Mrs. Arthur Kirkpatrick, Point Grey commissioner; Miss R. Martin, North Vancouver commissioner; Mrs. W. J. White and Mrs. Francis Milne.

Private automobiles, lent by interested citizens, were waiting to take the members on a drive to Whytecliff and beauty spots on the north shore. A return was made in time for the Women's Canadian Club luncheon at the Hotel Vancouver, when all Guides were in attendance.

At 2 o'clock automobiles were waiting to take the visitors on sightseeing trips around the city and suburbs. Then at 4 o'clock there will be four garden parties simultaneously, the I.O.D.E. entertaining at the See House, the home of the Municipal regent, Mrs. A. U. de Pencier, at which all Guides will be guests. Mrs. J. Fyfe Smith will entertain at her home, 6263 Carnarvon Street, her guests being visiting commissioners and Eastern and overseas representatives. Mrs. R. W. Brock will entertain all patrol leaders, and Mrs. E. Verner of Burnaby Lake will be hostess to Mrs. C Ratcliffe and Toronto Rangers. In this way all the visitors will be entertained in groups.

The I.O.D.E. has extended an invitation to Guiders in the Fraser and Burrard divisions to attend the function at See House, and Mrs. Brock has invited all patrol leaders of those divisions to the event at her home.

World Walkers—Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Le Roux of South Africa, who are on a walking tour of the world, will visit the A.O.F. ballroom on Saturday night and will give a short talk to the many members of Court Northern Light dancers on how to push a wheelbarrow and tour the world. They will talk between the hours of 9.30 to 10. The committee has arranged for the flannel dance season to commence from this date, with Ray Kinloch's five-piece orchestra to supply all the latest hits in dance music.

Widow to Fight Husband's Bequest To Brantford Nurse

New York, July 22.—Seeking a share in the $1,000,000 estate left by the late Sherwood Aldrich, copper magnate, who died three weks ago and left the bulk of his estate to his nurse, Miss Ethel M. Sears of Brantford, Ont., Mrs. Jeanette T. Aldrich, his widow, now in France, cabled her attorneys yesterday to start proceedings contesting the will.

Mrs. Aldrich was married to the testator in 1911 and obtained a separation from him a year ago, when she was cut off in the will.

Aviator Crashed Plane and Saved Lives of Bathers

New York, July 22.—Risking his life to avert a forced landing in the midst of hundreds of bathers at Great Hills, Staten Island, Lieut. J. D. Swartout of the United States Marine Corps yesterday successfully "jockeyed" his aeroplane, whose motor had stalled at 2,000 feet, and crashed in the marshes near Synder's Inn.

Except for a severe shaking up, he was virtually unhurt.

The plane, a Curtiss Hawk, turned over in the air, landed on its back and was demolished.

Lieut. Swartout had taken off from Quantico, Va., yesterday forenoon, on a flight to Miller Field.

Mechanics are attempting to salvage the plane.

Coast Junior Tennis Player Thrills Fans

Brookline, Mass., July 22.—John Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., national junior singles champion, had to go five sets to beat Clifford B. March, former Williams College star, in their fifth round match in the thirty-fifth annual Longwood bowl tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club here yesterday.

If there are logical contenders in tennis the eighteen-year-old Californian should rank high to succeed the best senior stars the country boast. Doeg came through almost wholly on his service which, when in good order, was nearly impossible to touch.

The match score was 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1

HIS MASTER'S VOICE

DEMPSEY'S "HOLLOW SHELL" WAS LOADED

Not Quite His Old Self Good Enough To Win

Former Champion Stages Sensational Comeback and Thrills 82,000 Fans; Hard-won Triumph Makes Him Contender for the Heavyweight Championship; Dempsey Has Words of Praise for Sharkey; Sailor-boy Thinks He Was Hit by Foul Blow; Tunney Says He Saw Nothing Foul; Talking of Next Fight

New York, July 22.—The "hollow shell" of Hollywood was loaded, after all, it seemed, and to-day Jack Dempsey, at thirty-two, is on the high road of a sensational comeback as the result of a stunning knockout victory over Jack Sharkey.

In a finish as sudden and dramatic as it was marked also by sharp controversy, the former king of the heavyweights dropped Sharkey for the count of ten in the seventh round of their fifteen-round match and put an abrupt and for the present to the confident course of the young Boston sailor.

A vicious right to the mid-section—a blow that aroused bitter controversy as to whether it was fair or foul—started Sharkey downward, and a short left hook flush to the chin completed the sailor's downfall. Sharkey himself, as well as his handlers, claimed a foul, and they were supported apparently by many ringside observers as well as others in the vast crowd of 82,000 that filled the Yankee Stadium, but the referee, Jack O'Sullivan, after a moment of hesitation himself, decided it was a fair blow, and tolled the count that brought victory to the bronzed, but somewhat battered, Dempsey.

HARD WON TRIUMPH

It was a hard won triumph for the man who sat on the heavyweight throne for seven years. It was a slashing, mauling battle that saw him rally from impending defeat in the first round, batter his young rival with a terrific attack to the body and finally bring his foe down. It was a stirring battle that saw the once great "Manassa Mauler" summon back much, if not all of his old-time punching power, all of his old gameness and a good deal of his old stamina to batter into defeat a foeman who had all of the assets of youth and speed, but little of the hitting accuracy that had marked his previous sensational rise to heavyweight prominence.

Whatever the elements of dispute aroused by Dempsey's finishing blows, the victory was sufficiently decisive to restore much of Dempsey's old prestige, gain him one of the greatest ovations of his career, lift him over the first of his comeback barriers and send him on the way to a return championship battle with his conqueror of last September, Gene Tunney.

MEET IN SEPTEMBER

Although Promoter Tex Rickard today declined to make any definite announcement of his plans, it is regarded as likely that Dempsey and Tunney will fight for the crown between September 15 and 20, possibly in Philadelphia, where they met last year, but probably at Soldiers' Field in Chicago. Rickard is understood to have virtually completed arrangements to shift the fight to a site outside New York because neither last night's battle ground nor any other in the metropolitan district affords seating capacity to compare with the arenas in Philadelphia or Chicago.

New York, July 22.—The Dempsey of to-day may not be the "Dempsey of Toledo," the "Man-killer" that battered Jess Willard into a helpless bulk with as devastating an exhibition of punching as the ring has ever seen. He may not, either, be as formidable as he was four years ago when he slugged his way to victory over the ginat Argentine, Luis Firpo, but he has come a long way along the comeback trail, observers seem agreed, since the dreary, rainy night last September when he floundered around against Tunney.

Dempsey's once lightning-like speed of foot has vanished, although his shiftiness remains. His punches carry terrific power and somewhere, apparently, he has regained a great deal of the old resources that enable him to "take it" and come back to win.

Last night in the first round he was perilously close to defeat. He was tottering, groggy, under the impact of a series of hooks to the head, and bleeding from the mouth. But he had the stamina to weather the sudden storm and keep plunging in with a relentless attack to the body that paved the way for the finishing blows, where a year ago he was unable to rally from a third round pummeling.

New York, July 22.—If Jack Dempsey has been away, he has come back. So said Gene Tunney, who knows Dempsey, both in and out of the ring.

"I never saw him fight better," said the champion as Jack Sharkey, the confident, was being carried to his corner. A left hook from Dempsey's gloved fist a few seconds before had caused the youthful Bostonian to lose all interest in the subsequent proceedings.

The titleholder's first observation after Sharkey had been counted out was a question.

"Did you notice how far that last blow carried?" he asked. There was no objection to his answering his own question.

DID NOT TRAVEL FAR

"Not very far, not many inches, but, oh, what power there was behind it."

"Yes, Dempsey can hit," Tunney continued. "He has always been able to hit, and I suppose he always will, as long as he stays in the ring, where a blow with a lot of power behind it means something."

Tunney liked the bout. He followed it closely from start to finish. He saw no foul. "The blows that were questionable were not in the groin," he said. "As I saw them they were fair."

New York, July 22.—Jack Dempsey is the happiest man in the world to-day.

"I knew I'd win and I did just as I said I would," he explained. "I'm so happy, tickled, pleased all up in a heap at once that I don't know what to do."

The former champion, now assured of a chance to regain his title from Gene Tunney, looked just that. His dressing-room was a frenzy of cheering, back-slapping friends who roared congratulations at him as he shouted answers back and danced gleefully around the room. His handlers patted and dried him with towels as if he were something holy to touch.

"That reception when I entered the ring, a roar that pounded in my ears, lifted me up and made me fight all the harder," Dempsey said. "I can't thank the fans enough for the glorious way they greeted me.

THINKS WELL OF SHARKEY

"Give a lot of cerdit to Sharkey," Jack added earnestly. "He's a tough, rugged boy, a mighty stiff boxer and one of the cleverest heavyweight I ever faced.

"I hit him a million times, I guess, but he just wouldn't go down until I felt that final right to the stomach bury in his body in the seventh. When the left hook caught him square on the chin I knew he was done. I didn't have to wait for the count.

"Sharkey punched real hard only when he was set, but he never did really hurt me at any time. Of course, he jarred me in the first round and once in a while with single punches, but I don't think I was ever in danger of a knockout."

Jack was fresh as if he was just about to enter the ring rather than at the close of one of the most terrific fights of his career. Two small cuts showed under his eyes, but neither was deep and no stitches were necessary to close the wounds.

LEAVING FOR COAST

Saturday Jack plans to leave for Los Angeles for a few week's vacation before returning to train for the title match with Gene Tunney in September. He does not know where he will undergo preparations for the championship fight.

In his final word, Dempsey asked that full credit be given Leo P. Flynn, his new manager, for the part the "fox" played in the comeback.

"Leo held me back in training," Jack said, "and probably kept me from leaving my fight in the tuning up. He kept me drilling for strength, and that told after the third round when I first felt Sharkey beginning to weaken."

"It was a tough fight, one of the fiercest I ever had, but I won. I'm back on the road to my old championship, and I won't quit until I get it."

New York, July 22.—Jack Sharkey, in his dressing-room after his defeat, declared Dempsey dropped his body attack below the waist line in the round that saw the knockout.

"It was all right," he said, "as long as he stuck to banging me around the hips, but when he dropped them lower ——.

"Not a scratch on me," he muttered as he peered into a mirror to don his tie.

His countenance, minus the air of confidence that has been a part of Sharkey, was virtually unmarked and his body bore scant evidence of Dempsey's terrific bombardment.

Dr. William Walker of the boxing commission, who examined Sharkey's solar plexus, said the boxer would suffer no ill effects. The examination, he added, gave no evidence a foul had been committed nor positive evidence to the contrary.

(Concluded on page 9)

EACH JACK WILL GET OVER $200,000 FOR HIS WORK

New York, July 22.—Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey split a purse of slightly more than $450,000 for their battle last night which drew a gate of $1,075,000 and attendance of 82,000, according to Tex Rickard's estimates. It was the fourth million-dollar fight in ring history, in all of which Dempsey has been a principal. The former champion now is assured of a cut in his fifth big money fight when he meets Gene Tunney in a return bout.

Rickard's contract with the fighters called for Dempsey to get 27½ per cent and Sharkey 22½. Dempsey was understood to have been guaranteed $250,000, and, on a percentage basis, it is figured to go slightly over that, with Sharkey getting a little over $200,000.

Here are the promoter's figures:
Total receipts, $1,075,000.
Dempsey's share, $252,759.
Sharkey's share, $206,803.
Federal tax, $53,750.
Rickard's share, $454,180.

Sons Continue In Running By Close Win Over Lodgemen

Eagles Failed to Hold Five-run Lead and Natives Win on Bacon's Double

Sons Tied Again With the Travelers For League Lead; George Gandy Hits Homer

Cy Milne's Sons of Canada remained in the running for the championship of the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League when they defeated the Eagles 7-6 last night at the Royal Athletic Park. Bacon delivered the blow that decided the game in the Sons favor. It was a two-bagger and came in the eighth with two out.

The Sons' victory ties up the league leadership for the "umpteenth" time this season. The Canadians and Travelers are now on even terms each with eight victories and six defeats.

At one stage of the game it looked as if the Eagles would tuck away another victory but, as in some of their other games, they let errors creep into their play at critical times, throwing away a five-run lead obtained in the second inning.

The Sons obtained a one-run advantage in the first inning when two hits and an error let Bacon score.

A BATTING SPREE

In the second inning the Eagles got to Lidstone's offerings and drove in five runs. George Gandy started off the batting spree by knocking the first ball pitched over the centre field fence. The rest of the Eagles were inspired by the blow and before the last out was made they had snared a five-run lead.

The Sons scored one run in the third and in the fifth added two more. In the fifth, Jimmy Cummins was hit by a pitched ball and advanced to second on Bacon's single. Eddie Newman walked, filling the bases. Bill More drove a hard one to "Hap" Gandy who fielded the ball perfectly and made a good throw. Oatman, at first, lost the ball in the sun and two runs were scored.

The Sons tied up the score in the next inning. "Kim" Campbell singled over first and was safe on second when Latham fumbled Cummins' slow grounder. Bill Holman drove a liner through short to score both men and even up the count.

With two men away the Sons scored the winning run in the eighth. "Kim" Campbell walked and was sacrificed to second. Jack Bacon poled a two-bagger to right field scoring Campbell.

Lidstone, on the mound for the Sons was not in his real form and was touched up for ten hits, while Parfitt, who replaced him in the eighth, allowed one safety.

Kerr who did the twirling for the Eagles allowing ten hits while he struck out three.

The next game will be on Monday night when the Travelers will meet the Eagles.

Ottawa Bowlers Win Over British Team

Ottawa, July 22.—The touring British lawn bowlers met defeat at the hands of a picked team of six Ottawa rinks yesterday afternoon by 134 to 123.

WORLD LISTENS IN

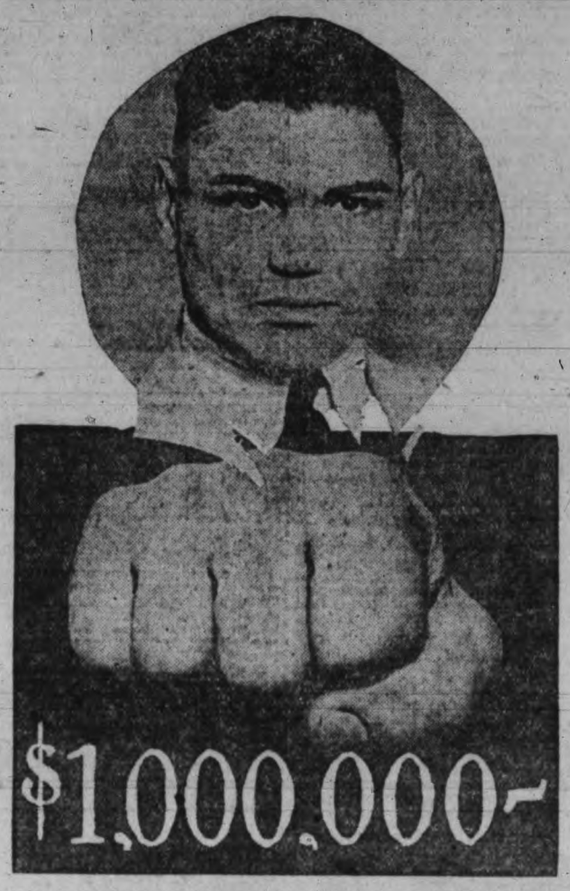
The radio hookup at the Dempsey-Sharkey fight last night was the greatest on record, the National Broadcasting Company announced, with fifty-one stations connected in a coast to coast and border to gulf network. The country was blanketed for the air story of the battle in addition to which many foreign countries were expected to tune in.

RECEIPTS FOR BOUT FELL JUST SHORT OF A MILLION DOLLARS

Washington, July 22.—The gate at the Dempsey-Sharkey fight last night as reported to the treasury was $985,027 paid by 77,283 fight fans.

A telegraphic report received today from Louis J. Campbell, supervisor of accounts and collections in the New York office of the Internal Revenue Bureau, informed the bureau that the admission tax totaled $98,502.70.

DEMPSEY AND HIS MONEY-GETTER



This picture shows Jack Dempsey in pleasant mood and his celebrated left hand, which is known as a "million-dollar fist." With it Dempsey has pounded many men into submission and it ended the activities of Jack Sharkey last night.

Jack Dempsey is the biggest "money-fighter" the ring has ever known. He has drawn down the largest purses in fistic history. He has attracted the largest crowds and "gates" on record.

Only four battles in pugilistic annals have gone over the $1,000,000 mark in receipts, and Dempsey has figured in all of them—his fights with Georges Carpentier, Luis Angel Firpo Gene Tunney and Jack Sharkey. Two of threse drew over $1,500,000.

From Willard to Tunney, Dempsey fought seven times, collecting more than $2,000,000 as his share of "gates" that approximated over $5,750,000.

"Color," the indefinable something in athletic prowess that acts as a magnet to the fans, has made Dempsey the greatest drawing card in ring history, in the opinion of Tex Rickard, who knows better than anyone else how profitable Dempsey's fistic appearances have been. It is the sort of "color" that has made Babe Ruth the biggest attraction in baseball.

Fandom prefers the "sock," whether it is with the fist or the baseball bat. Dempsey has always been a "socker." The possibility of a knockout or a knock-down-and-drag-out battle always has seemed to be a greater lure than a scientific exhibition of the manly art of boxing.

When Dempsey and Firpo staged their famous cave-man struggle at the Polo Grounds, more than 85,000 spectators became hysterical, wildly cheering fanatics, stirred by as primitive a battle of fists as the ring has ever seen.

Victorians Will Seek Canadian Net Titles

Strong Local Team, Headed by Marjorie Leeming, Women's Singles Champion, Will Compete in Big Tournament in Vancouver Next Week; Four Fine Junior Players in Party

Victoria will be well represented in the Canadian tennis championships in Vancouver next week as no fewer than fourteen local net stars have already decided to make the trip. The locals have entrants in every event except the veterans' singles and doubles.

Marjorie Leeming will go over to seek her third straight title in the ladies' singles, and from the way she has been playing of late, it will take a lot to stop her. Still with such American stars as Louise McFarland, Marion Williams and Carolyn Swartz, in the field it is anybody's race. Marjorie will be Canada's only powerful threat in the ladies' events, and the only British Columbian liable to repulse the invaders from the East and South.

WILL TEAM WITH HOCKING

Marjorie will pair with Bud Hocking in the mixed doubles, and this team should go a long way. Hope Leeming and Eric McCallum, newly-crowned city titleholders, are also expected to go a long way.

The old firm of Gordon and McCallum will again be seen in the doubles, and battle for the crown now worn by John Procter and Leon de Turenne. Marsh and Eric ranked third in the Northwest, so that they should be able to give a good account of themselves against the Californian teams, which seem to be the class of this event.

JUNIORS ARE STRONG

A strong junior contingent will leave here next Sunday in the hunt for tennis fame. Doreen Swayne, Jean Campbell, Velda Rithet and Steve Jones make up a pretty strong quartette, which should survive the preliminary rounds at least. Miss Swayne will have a chance to match her skill with Marie McNab, the famous Vancouver girl, while Steve will attempt to subdue Venes, Nordstrum, Newkirk, Clist, Rhyne, Oswald and Parsons, to quote only a few of the young stars who will be seen in action next week at Vancouver.

Others in the party are: Miss Mary Campbell, Miss M. Miller, Miss Jackson, Mrs. T. H. Leeming and Don Campbell.

Vancouver, July 22.—With the largest number of outside entries on record, the Canadian tennis championships will open on the courts of the Vancouver Club next Monday morning. Forty-eight male players from Montreal to Victoria and Vancouver to Los Angeles are among the list of entries which closed last night.

Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are officially represented by two entries each, while other players from these provinces will also be contestants.

Among the leading gentlemen players are Leon De Turenne of Seattle, Bradshaw Harrison, Sherman Lockwood, S. Almquist and Dick Hoogs of San Francisco, John Risso of the University of California and J. K. Lloyd Cann will be on the mound for the clubmen, but Sidney have not yet announced their battery.

On Wednesday night Sidney captured the first game of the series by a 4-3 score, and a victory to-night will give them the title for the second consecutive year.

Cubs, Beaten, Bound Back Into Lead In Hot Baseball Race

Chicago Lost One Game While Pittsburgh Dropped Two, Causing Change

Giants Break Out But Not Sufficiently to Win; Yankees Wait But Win

Joe McCarthy's Chicago Cubs were back at the top in the National League race again to-day, but not by dint of their own energy. The leadership changed hands for the fourth time in as many days when the Pittsburgh Pirates lost both ends of a double-header to the Boston Braves. The Cubs failed to solve Herb Pruett's offerings and lost to Philadelphia 7-3.

Kremer gave officially five hits in the first game at Boston, but the Braves bunched two of them in the first inning for two runs and a 2-1 verdict.

Miljus, a Pacific coast product, who made his debut for the Pirates, was charged with the 5-2 defeat.

FIREWORKS IN NINTH

The Giants exploded a wagon load of fireworks in the ninth against the St. Louis Cardinals but lost the series opener 7-6. Going to bat five runs behind, the New York club drove Jess Haines to cover in the ninth and scored five runs. In the tenth Devormer threw wild to third and Bottomley crossed with the winning run.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn battled thirteen innings before the Reds came out on top 2-1. The Robins had the bases loaded in the tenth with only one down but lacked a punch.

Connally had the New York Yanks in the hollow of his hand until the eighth when the Hugmen put across four runs and took the game from Chicago 4-1.

The Philadelphia Athletics won the series opener from Cleveland 8-3, hitting Joe Shaute hard while the veteran Jack Quinn was scattering the eleven hits he permitted.

A TIMELY DOUBLE

A double with the bases full in the ninth gave the St. Louis Browns a victory over Washington 5-4. The second game was halted in the seventh by darkness with the teams 2-2. "Bucky" Harris, the Senators' field boss, was banished for arguing with an umpire.

Regan's homer with a man on base failed to keep the Boston Red Sox from defeat, the Detroit Tigers trimming Carrigan's team 7-3.

Pictures Show Blow To Stomach Was Fair

Slow-motion Pictures of Last Night's Fight Shown to Newspaper Men This Morning; Fact That Sharkey Was Wearing His Trunks High Led Many to Think That Dempsey's Right to Stomach Was Low; Referee Insisted Blow Was Fair But One of Judges Disagreed

New York, July 22—The official slow motion pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight showing the milling in the seventh round revealed to-day that the disputed blow which contributed to Dempsey's victory was apparently fair. The films were shown only to newspapermen.

"Tex" Rickard was one of the witnesses of the showing. He said that in his opinion the blow was a "fair one, right in the pit of the stomach."

The film was run off three times to permit newspapermen to compare their judgments. The slow motions of the fighters revealed that Dempsey struck three hard rights to the stomach of Sharkey before delivering the left to the jaw that knocked out his opponent.

The pictures show that Sharkey was wearing his trunks pulled higher up than Dempsey was wearing his, which led newspapermen to-day to assert that this fact probably had contributed much to the confusion of the witnesses of the bout last night.

New York, July 22.—Although the referee, Jack O'Sullivan, declared the punch was fair, a majority of sports writers whose opinions were reflected in metropolitan newspapers to-day, apparently considered that Jack Dempsey landed a foul blow just before he knocked out Jack Sharkey with a left to the chin.

The New York Times says: "Many will hold the belief that Dempsey should have been disqualified on a foul."

The Herald-Tribune, in one account, refers to "two foul punches" by Dempsey, "to which Jack O'Sullivan, the referee, paid no attention," although they were "delivered a good eight inches below the belt."

A STRANGE FIGHT

"It was a strange fight, as strange as the rumors that were flying through the stadium when it started, as strange as the shifting of the odds that made Dempsey a favorite before the two men entered the ring. All the circumstances were startling, not to say peculiar."

According to The World, the right to Sharkey's body "did seem to be close to the belt," but it points out that the referee refused to allow a claim of foul and that the official physician of the boxing commission found no evidence of injury. The same paper adds:

"No matter what justice there might have been to Sharkey's claim of foul on that right to the body, the left turned the trick. As to the final blow, it seemed that inasmuch as Referee O'Sullivan did not immediately decide the blow was low, Dempsey was within his rights to continue fighting."

THE FRONTIER CODE

The American suggests that Dempsey adopted the old frontier code of "to shoot first and argue afterwards," but its observers passed no definite opinion on the location of the disputed blow.

New York, July 22.—Charles Mathison, one of the judges of the fight, declared he would make the following report to the state athletic commission:

"Jack Sharkey was hit below the waistline immediately before the knock-out punch and Dempsey should have been disqualified. Dempsey was also guilty of hitting low in several other rounds."

Referee Jack O'Sullivan said:

"The blow which preceded the knockout punch, a left to the jaw, was a fairly delivered one. It was a right uppercut that landed right on the waistline, but not below. It is true that Dempsey landed several times below the waistline in previous rounds, but in no case were the punchs injurious or deliberate, nor was there any protest made by Sharkey previous to the final round."

VICTORIA DOUBLES REACHES FINALS IN B. C. TOURNAMENT

Vancouver, July 22.—Defeating Hodgkinson of Vancouver South on Thursday night in the final by 21 shots to 8, Wilson of West Point Grey became the new novice singles champion of the B.C. Lawn Bowling Association, and thereby captured the handsome Spalding trophy.

Splendid progress was again made with the tournament during the day, the Tisdall and Mercer doubles competitions being narrowed down to the finals. In the former, Marconini and McCosh of Victoria are to meet Hughan and Bryson of Cedar Cottage, to decide possession of the trophy, while Baird and Scott of the Vancouver Club are to oppose the winner of Wood and Jenkinson (Terminal) vs. Blanc and Black (New Westminster), semi-final for the Mercer silverware.

Outside rinks made a start in the Nabob event, the preliminary and first rounds being completed, bringing the competition down to the semi-finals.

N.P.A.A.O. Regatta Gets Underway at Harrison Lake; Seniors Row To-morrow

Vancouver, July 22.—Leading oarsmen of the Pacific Northwest will go into action this afternoon at Harrison Lake, when the N.P.A.A.O. regatta gets under way. There are no senior races on to-day's programme.

The first event on the programme is the junior singles. There are only four entries in this event. Mickey Craig of Vancouver is being given the edge to win this. As the winner will be eligible for the senior singles Saturday, there is bound to be a strenuous race.

The junior doubles is a toss-up and any one of the three crews might come through.

In the 140-pound singles, Eddie Snead of Vancouver is favored to hold the laurels he won last year.

The junior fours and the 140-pound doubles are creating no little interest. The races are both hard to pick.

To-day's events:

2.30—Junior singles: Portland—J. Trommald. Victoria—R. Ditchburn. Vancouver—Mickey Craig, A. E. Bergman.

3.00—Junior doubles: Portland—J. Trommald, stroke; M. Sickafoose, bow. Victoria—D. Moses, R. Ditchburn; J. Crane, spare. Vancouver—E. S. Roberts, stroke; R. C. Barker, bow; G. Angus, spare.

Softball

In the final game of the knockout series to decide the holder of the Poodle Dog Cup the Hillcrests and Onwegos will meet at the Work Point Barracks to-night at 6.30 o'clock. Bob Whyte will call the strikes, while Sergt.-Major Wallace will act on the bases.

DEMPSEY'S FAN MAIL PITIFUL IN TWO INSTANCES

Women, Needing Money Owing to Ill-health, Write For Verdict on Fight

Some People Praised Him While Others Called Him Rough Names

The "fan mail" of Jack Dempsey, whose colorful personality has gripped the fight-loving public as strongly as any man in fistic history, with the sole exception of John L. Sullivan, is inspiring, exasperating and pitiful.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams poured in to him daily at his training camp at Saratoga Lake, N.Y. All were handled by his secretary. Most of them wished Jack luck in his comeback effort. Some told him plainly that he was a "no-good bum." A few wanted definite information that he would conquer Jack Sharkey in the Yankee Stadium to-night.

In the last category were at least two letters Jack would have liked to be able to answer if it were possible. The first was from the mother of two children, one of whom must undergo an operation, asking if Jack would advise her to bet $100 on him in the coming fight, inasmuch as the operation required twice that amount. Time was precious, the mother wrote, and that was the only immediate way open to double the sum on hand.

In the letter were two slips of paper. On one was written: "You can do it safely," on the other: "I would advise you not to do it." Jack was asked to return one slip or the other, "because my little boy's health is involved and not because I would hesitate to place my money on you under ordinary circumstances."

The second, in faulty handwriting, came from a washerwoman who was ill and unable to earn her usual $3 a day scrubbing floors. She had two rings that could be pawned, she said. Would Jack "please write whether he would win? Just yes or no."

NOT QUITE HIS OLD SELF BUT GOOD ENOUGH TO WIN

NOT DISCOURAGED

As Sharkey donned his clothes he said with a flash of the old confident fighter:

"I'm not discourged.

"I'll be fighting yet when Dempsey's got gray hair."

"It's all in the game," he said in another mood.

"It was just a misfortune. That was all."

To the consolations of friends who remarked he had other interests outside the ring, he replied with emphasis that he didn't "feel that way at all."

"I can come back," he said, with a tightening of the jaw.

Sharkey's first thought was of his wife, who remained in seclusion in their hotel in Upper Broadway. He left at once by automobile to join her.

MAKE IT A DOZEN, JOHNNY

Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, claimed that his fighter "was fouled half a dozen times," and that otherwise he would have won with ease.

A LITTLE AFRAID

Salt Lake City, Utah., July 22—Outwardly calm, but admitted "nervous," Mrs. Cecelia Dempsey, mother of Jack Dempsey, heard the verdict of the referee award her son another victory over the radio backstage of a local theatre last night.

"I thought he would win, but then I was awful nervous," she said. "I couldn't help but be nervous because even though I thought he would win, it was a hard test. Oh, yes, I think Sharkey is a better fighter than Tunney, and although I felt that Jack was in better shape than in his last fight I couldn't help being a little afraid."

FIGHT BY ROUNDS

The description, round by round, of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight held last night in New York, is as follows:

ROUND ONE

Dempsey came out in a crouch and fell into a clinch hammering five short rights to the body as Sharkey missed a left hook. Dempsey bored in again, drilling hard smashes to the ribs. Jack hooked two lefts to Dempsey's head. They were close again and Sharkey got in two more to the head. Sharkey stabbed Dempsey with a left to the head. Dempsey bored in again, took two lefts to the head and again was short with punches to Sharkey's body. Sharkey looked tired.

A left hook shook Sharkey's head back. Sharkey licked Jack with two right uppercuts. Dempsey reeling and groggy, moved about the ring under a fusilade. Sharkey smashed him again with rights. Dempsey was groggy and Sharkey missed a long right. The bell caught Sharkey half was through a right swing. Dempsey went to his corner very tired.

ROUND TWO

They came out slowly and Sharkey missed a left. Sharkey drove Dempsey to the ropes with a right to the jaw. Dempsey fought fiercely at Sharkey's body but laid on heavy in the clinches. Dempsey missed a wild left hook. In close they swapped jolts to the ribs. Dempsey held as Sharkey clubbed to thebody. Sharkey nailed Dempsey with a left to the head and drove Dempsey to the ropes with a short right to the jaw. The Boston boy landed solid smashes to the chin that rocked the former champion. Dempsey nailed Sharkey with two hooks to the chin. Dempsey was very tired after the flurry but managed to hook his left hand twice on Sharkey's chin. They were in a clinch at the bell.

ROUND THREE

A small cut appeared under Dempsey's left eye from Sharkey's jab. Dempsey drove a long left to the stomach and then took a left and right uppercut as he swayed to close quarters. Dempsey missed a left to the head but landed two right jolts on Sharkey's chin. Dempsey shuffled in, apparently stronger, crowding Sharkey with body attack. They were locked in a clinch. They stood for a moment and looked each other over, tired from the fierce pace. Dempsey whipped over a right uppercut as he dove in. Sharkey caught Dempsey with a wicked right smash to the chin as the former champion came in. Sharkey bored two lefts to Dempsey's body and Dempsey stepped back. Sharkey slipped and went down in his own corner but was up without a count. No blow was struck and the bell ended the session while Sharkey was on his knee.

ROUND FOUR

Sharkey was a bit less confident as he came out and missed a wild right. Jack bobebd out of the way of Sharkey's jab. Dempsey drove Sharkey around the ring with fierce punches to the body. Sharkey breathed hard as Dempsey nailed a left to the chin and a right to the ribs. Sharkey cut three left jabs into Dempsey's face and hooked both hands to the face. Dempsey's right eye was bleeding badly. Dempsey came in again with a short right to the body and lifted Sharkey's head with a right uppercut. Sharkey missed a right uppercut and took two smashing jolts from Dempsey's left. Sharkey missed frequently as Jack bobbed about.

Dempsey nailed Sharkey with a left hook fully on the jaw driving the sailor into a defensive crouch in a neutral corner.

They were plugging away at the body at the bell.

ROUND FIVE

Dempsey appeared to be finding himself, under the heat of the milling. He shuffled out and skimmed Sharkey's chin with a left. Sharkey stabbed Jack about the head but Dempsey caught a left hook on his nose. Sharkey spit blood as Dempsey swung in close for another body attack. Sharkey met him with a right uppercut coming in. Sharkey landed a straight right to the head and Dempsey clinched.

ROUND SIX

Sharkey, apparently much the fresher, was playing a waiting game. He let Demnsey rush him again and Jack missed a long left to Sharkey's head. Sharkey was short with a left to the chin but his right smacked solidly on Dempsey's jaw. Dempsey missed a long left. Dempsey came steadily on, however, ramming away to the body. Sharkey slapped a right to Dempsey's face. Dempsey followed him and they bobbed at each other, until Sharkey shot Dempsey's head back with a terrific right uppercut to the jaw.

It was the cleanest and hardest punch of the fight so far. Dempsey pushed Sharkey to the ropes. Dempsey caught the sailor coming out with three smashes to the head and the crowd booed as Sharkey deliberately poked Dempsey in the face after the bell.

ROUND SEVEN

Dempsey was weaving again and Sharkey held as the fire grew hot about his body. Dempsey knocked Sharkey down with a right. Dempsey suddenly whipped his left into Sharkey's stomach and followed with a straight right hand smash to the jaw that knocked Sharkey down again. Sharkey got to his knees at the count of nine, swayed and fell flat to his face as the referee counted ten. Sharkey's handlers claimed the blow was a foul but the referee disallowed it.

Probably the greatest ovation given a fighter was accorded Dempsey as the referee raised his hand in victory. The stadium fairly rocked. The round had lasted only forty-five seconds.

Jack Dempsey, former champion of the world, came back to the prize ring to-night to fight Jack Sharkey fifteen rounds for the right to challenge Gene Tunney for the title in September.

The weights were announced as: Dempsey 196½; Sharkey 196.

The lure of the big bronze, hard-punching Jack and the clever Boston sailor man drew a crowd of over 82,000 to the huge American League ball park. The gate was estimated at well over $1,000,000, a record for non-championship fights.

The referee was announced as Jack O'Sullivan and the judges Tom Flynn and Charles Matheson, all of New York.

FIGHTERS APPEAR

Dempsey was the first in the ring. As he appeared down the aisle, the huge crowd stormed to its feet cheering and whistling. Dempsey danced in his corner after shaking hands with the announcer.

Sharkey came in later to another great deafening ovation. He climbed into the ring, leering fiercely about his as Dempsey warmed up with hand on the ropes. The Boston boy strode to Jack's corner and gave the former champion "the eye." He touched hands and snarled something in Dempsey's ear. The former champion barely turned his head and went on dancing, his back turned as Sharkey retreated, still glaring.

A battery of cameras were set up immediately under the glaring lights and Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, Tom Heeney and Paulino Uzcudun, both heavyweights, joined the principals before the lenses.

HARD LOOKS

The storm clouds of Dempsey's black scowl appeared as he caught a glimpse of Sharkey's lowered brow. As the other fighters names were announced Sharkey led the handclapping, smiling for a moment and then went back to staring at the former champion.

Gene Tunney, world's champion, climbed into the ring, shook hands with Dempsey as he wished the man he beat success and then barely touched Sharkey's gloves as he left the ring.

A gallery of several thousands watched the match. The roads were jammed with cars long before play started, and many who came were unable to reach the greens.

London, July 22.—Bobby Jones yesterday was defeated in a foursome at Sunningdale, where he made his record qualifying score of 66-68—134, in the British open last year. With Robert Harris as partner, he lost to Cyril Tolley and Roger Wethered, 3 and 2.

Hen Pheasant Makes Call on Storekeeper

A hen pheasant, out for a morning flip this morning, flew into the store of Plimley & Ritchie's, View Street, to-day and took a look around. The pheasant, however, forgot the way out and before it could get a compass bearing was captured by George Robinson and Bob Smith. They decided not to serve it to the staff for lunch and instead gave it a perch of honor in the window of the store. The bird is on exhibition now.

Willing, Stein, Held And Coleman Remain In Western Amateur

Moe and Dolp Among Those Counted Out at Seattle Yesterday

Seattle, July 22. — Frank Dolp of Portland who last year won the Western amateur golf championship at St. Paul, melted out of the 1927 titular struggle at the Seattle Golf Club yesterday on the thirty-sixth hole of his third-round match with Fay Coleman of Los Angeles. All square coming to the final green, Dolp failed to sink a short putt past a near-stymie for a birdie 4 and Colman dropped an easy one from less than two feet to dethrone the reigning king of Western golf.

Long after Colman had won his way into yesterday's semi-finals, and Bon Stein and Dr. O. F. Willing had done the same, Eddie Held of St. Louis and Roy Moe of Portland were battling around the course to settle an argument that had remained on even terms from the thirty-third green on. With the shadows lengthening across the green fairways, Moe at last was trapped at the fifth overtime hole, and took a 4 to get down, losing the hole, match and chance at the title, when Held grabbed a par 3.

CLOSE MATCHES

Of the four third-round matches, only one failed to go the full thirty-six holes or farther, when Bon Stein of Seattle disposed of his young fellow-townsmen, Harold Niemeyer, after thirty-four holes, 3 and 2. The veterans, Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland and Chandler Egan of Medford battled to the limit, and came within two inches of having to proceed to extra holes. With Willing one up leaving the last tee and sitting stiff for a birdie 4 on the thirty-sixth green, Egan's twelve-foot putt for an eagle 3 stopped just two inches from the lip.

Coleman, in defeating Dolp yesterday, displayed a beautiful rounded out game of golf. He is a hard and reasonably accurate hitter off the tee, his irons are nippy, and usually dead on the pin. He is a good putter.

Indeed, it was chiefly the difference in putting that won for Coleman yesterday. Throughout the greater part of the match, Colman was dropping them while Dolp was lipping them or failing to get up.

Even the rundown and skinny grown-ups, who need to take the health, strength and weight producing elements that come from codfish livers, because it really is the greatest vitamine food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver extract in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh producing, health creating tablets just as easy as a box of talcum powder.

Thin, run-down, anaemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets and if the gain is not five pounds in thirty days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor. Another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child aged nine, twelve pounds in seven months and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets. MacFarlane Drug Company, Vancouver Drug Company, Owl Drug Company or any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only 60 cents for sixty Tablets—and don't forget that they are wonder workers for feeble old folks.

Get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and beware of imitations. (Advt.)

NEW ZEALAND PLEASED WITH TRADE TREATY

Extension of Canadian-Australian Pact by Canada Brings Results

Canadian Trade Commissioner Tells of British Preference

"New Zealand welcomes the recent extension of the Canadian-Australian trade treaty to herself, as a voluntary act on the part of Canada establishing the will to do business with a sister Dominion," stated C. M. Croft, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Auckland, arriving last night on the Aorangi to report to Ottawa.

Mr. Croft, who has spent four and a half years in the New Zealand field, tells of a strong desire on the part of New Zealand business circles to trade within the Empire. The extension of the Canadian treaty to New Zealand caused a favorable reaction on the country, and led to an increasing desire to trade with Canada wherever possible.

New Zealand, continued Mr. Croft, is interested in the importation of raw materials, building up factories along many lines to turn out finished products from the imported materials. In this, he said, Canada could play a big part in the exportation of lumber.

Door stocks, which had been imported from Victoria, were now being made up in New Zealand; while motor cars and lumber were the two chief items imported from Canada. Motor cars were among the few manufactured articles which New Zealand continued to import.

COMPETITION TO MEET

Canadian lumbermen, continued Mr. Croft, had competition to meet from United States lumber merchants, and in exporting should be sure that the grading was strictly correct. He believed there was a big field for Canadian lumber in New Zealand, but exporters would have to be sure that the stock shipped was thoroughly as represented.

New Zealand generally, he concluded, was recovering from the decline in butter prices on the London market, its chief revenue production item, and was steadily rebuilding its dairy exports under amended plans. The Export Control Board was functioning to better advantage, and co-operative movements in regard to dairy products were getting on their feet. As the dairy situation picked up, money would be freer and more trade with Canada would result, he was sure.

Construction in New Zealand included weather boarding and galvanized iron sheeting, with comparatively little use being made of shingles or pliable roofing surfaces. Educational campaigns to bring the merits of other forms of construction before New Zealanders might open up another big field for Canadian export, he thought.

Mr. Croft is on his way to Ottawa, where he will report on his mission. After that he will tour Canada, speaking at the main centres on the results of his experiences in the investigation of the New Zealand field.

RUN OF FISH SLOW IN WATERS OF B.C.

Sockeye Catches Far Below Average in Chief Centres; Cold Spring Blamed

Vancouver, July 22.—Latest reports received by the canners' section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association regarding fishing in British Columbia waters indicate that the run has not yet got under way to any great extent. Despite the fact that the sockeye season is more advanced, catches in the three main areas of the Naas, Skeena and Rivers Inlet are considerably behind those at a similar date last year. Whether this is due to adverse fishing conditions or to the fish arriving later than usual is not certain. Packers are figuring that the latter is the case, and should the weather improve it is expected that the poor catches to date will eventually be made up. To July 9 a total of 520 cases had been packed on the Naas, as against 9,000 at the same date last year. The Skeena River has 16,000 cases, against 24,000 for the same period in 1926, and Rivers Inlet showed approximately 6,000 cases as compared with 12,000 last year at the same date.

The chief decrease is in the sockeye pack. Old-timers in the cannery business claim that the low catch is not due to any decrease in the run but to the cold Spring, which has kept the fish from going to their spawning grounds at the expected time.

ON FRASER RIVER

On the Fraser River no sockeyes are showing up, though the run of springs is continuing steadily. Reports from the traps at Puget Sound indicate that few sockeyes have reached there, and the Fraser River sockeye in the last few years have always run a month or six weeks later than in the more southerly waters.

Though some uneasiness was caused by a similar delay in the run of pilchards on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, operators of the plants were encouraged greatly last week by some very favorable catches. One firm, it is reported, secured thirty tons on one day and sixty tons on the one following, and operators are low looking forward to a busy season.

Neptunian Here This Morning For Lumber

The freighter Neptunian will arrive here to-morrow morning to load lumber, according to advices received by King Bros., local customs brokers. She will take on several hundred thousand feet at this port. The Ss. King Robert which has been loading at Ogden Point during the last few days, sailed at 4.30 o'clock this morning to complete on the Mainland for the Atlantic seaboard.

FOUR-TON GANGWAY INTERESTS CROWDS

Self-operating, Two-road Passage Now in Operation at Pier B-C

Vancouver, B.C., July 22.—Fully 2,000 citizens of Vancouver thronged the new Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Pier B-C yesterday to witness the working of the new self-operating two-road hydraulic gangway—the first of its kind on the American continent. The gangway was being used to take on passengers for the Empress Russia, which sailed at noon for the Orient with many missionaries returning to their life work.

The gangway, which weighs over four tons, loads passengers on to the top deck of the Empress vessels from the verandas of the pier, thus allowing ample space for cargo and automobile traffic on the pier beneath. It operates on a pivot and, when not in use, is placed by means of an electric crane on a special ledge provided for it above the roof of the pier. The gangway is an invention of the Sidney E. Junkins Company, the builders of the pier, and is so made that it expands or contracts according to the state of the tide.

The Empress of Russia was the first ship to sail from the new pier since the civic dedication on July 4. In consequence many prominent shipping, railroad and business men were present to bid "bon voyage" to the Empress as she sailed on her long voyage westward.

PACIFIC TRADER IS IN COLLISION

Furness Vessel and Ss. Northland Come Together in Golden Gate Fog

San Francisco, July 22.—The steamers Pacific Trader and Northland collided just outside the Golden Gate in a heavy fog last night, said reports by radio to the Federal Telegraph Company. The message said the Northland had been deserted by her crew and was sinking. The Pacific Trader picked up the Northland's crew.

The Pacific Trader, a Furness (Pacific) vessel was in this port during the first week of this month from the United Kingdom. When in collision last night she was bound from San Francisco to Los Angeles on her eastward sailing for Europe. The Trader will next be in this port on November 10.

Leather Back Sea Turtle is Bought At Cost of $2,000

Beach Haven, N.J., July 22.—Henry Bordzint, working for the Beach Haven Crest Fisheries, landed a 1,400 pound leather back sea turtle Wednesday. The leather back is one of the rarest specimens of sea life ever landed here, fishermen say.

It is 8 feet long, 6 inches thick 4 feet broad and its head is 17 inches in diameter.

The New York City aquarium bought the rare specimen, paying $2,000 for it.

NO PINK SALMON IN QUEEN CHARLOTTE RUN

With no pink salmon run due in the Queen Charlotte Islands this year, the British Columbia pack is expected to be materially short of 1926, it is reported. Some figure the shortage of as much as 350,000 cases entirely on pinks. Several of the Queen Charlotte canneries will be closed this season. Throughout the rest of British Columbia all canneries that ran last year will be in operation in addition to several new ones. The Fraser River will probably have a much larger pack than last year, according to advance reports.

FRENCH-CANADIAN PARTY EASTBOUND

University of Montreal Party Stops at Lake Louise En Route Home

After two days sightseeing at Victoria, the French-Canadian party of 150 on the coast, under the auspices of the University of Montreal and the Canadian Pacific Railway, returned to Vancouver yesterday morning. The visitors left Vancouver at 3 o'clock on a Canadian Pacific Railway special train on the return journey, stopping at Lake Louise en route.

This is the third party the University of Montreal has brought to the Pacific Coast, and it is the intention to come again next year. About forty per cent of the excursionists are university men or graduates, the remainder include many prominent business and professional men of the province of Quebec. The purpose of the trips is educational.

The party was accompanied to the coast by Mile. Hortense Cartier, daughter of a famous father of Confederation. She is delighted with her experience on the coast, and it would not be surprising to her friends if she left her present home at Cannes, France, to take up her abode here.

ENCHANTRESS BACK FROM NORTH CRUISE

Los Angeles Yacht Ties up in Harbor; Westward Here Yesterday

Returning from a cruise of British Columbia coast waters as far north as Prince Rupert the schooner Enchantress, owned by H. Morgan Adams of Los Angeles, arrived here this morning. She is tied up at Evans, Coleman & Evans dock in the Inner Harbor.

The Enchantress was in this port a month ago, calling on her way from the south. She will be here for three or four days before leaving for Los Angeles.

Another of the annual fleet of pleasure yachts from the United States was here yesterday. This was the Westward, owned by Campbell Church of Eugene, Oregon. She is an eighty-six-foot Diesel-engined vessel and was last year used on a six months' cruise of Bering Sea waters by Captain Roe Dykeman, who is still in command.

The party on board the yacht is on a fishing and hunting trip in northern B.C. and Alaskan waters. They are: Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kleiser, G. W. Kleiser Jr., John E. Kleiser, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Chidister, John Chidister, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Green of Seattle.

The Westward left early this morning for Campbell River.

COASTER TO ARRIVE SATURDAY MORNING

With cargo from California, the Canadian Government Merchant Marine freighter Canadian Coaster is expected to arrive here to-morrow morning. The vessel is being considerably delayed by fog on the coast.

Ss. Canadian Importer will probably arrive here either late to-morrow night or early Sunday morning from Quebec. She was reported 437 miles from Victoria by wireless at 8 o'clock last night.

FIJI OFFICIAL TELLS OF TRADE

Fiji Islands Would Have Welcomed Service by C.G.M.M. Vessels

Experiments in Canned Pineapple May Lead to Major Developments

H. H. Rushton, Colonial Treasurer at Fiji, and formerly British trade representative of the British West Indies, accompanied by Mrs. Rushton, passed through Victoria last night, as passengers on the Aorangi for London, England, on furlough.

The Fiji Islands would have welcomed a service to this coast by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, to help in the building up of more intimate trade relations with Canada, stated Mr. Rushton, who told of efforts made to secure an extension of the service to take in Fiji.

The islands are speeding up along all lines of commercial opportunity, and are finding some success in dairy products. Fiji butter is sold in British Columbia in fair competition with New Zealand dairy products, stated Mr. Rushton.

The latest development has been experimentation with the canning of pineapples on a large scale way. If this succeeds according to present hopes, the canned pineapple products will find a big market, and will lead to enormous development on the islands.

Fiji is anxious to restore the balance of one-sided trade with Canada, and is willing to buy anything that can be fitted in with its industrial and domestic life. So far little outlet has been found for this desire, though preferential tariffs are operated in favor of such a trade.

Mr. Rushton was in Canada some years ago, as trade commissioner for the British West Indies, and is intimately acquainted with conditions here and in the East. This time he is on a pleasure trip on furlough, after a relapse in health.

CLEVELAND CHAMBER FAVORS GREAT LAKES-ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

Cleveland, O., July 22.—The directors of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, in a report issued Wednesday approved the proposed Great Lakes St. Lawrence waterway project which would transform this city into an ocean port doing a business of more than $170,000,000 annually.

The report was drawn by the chamber's rivers and harbor committee after months of intensive study. It was submitted to Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, who acknowledged it as a "constructive document" that should be very helpful in developing the project.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120 meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

FOUR INJURED IN LAUNCH EXPLOSION

While Taking on Fuel in Vancouver, Launch Privateer Is Blown Up

Vancouver, July 21.—Bain Grant, twenty-six, lies in St. Paul's Hospital suffering severely from shock and burns as the result of the explosion of gasoline fumes aboard the gasoline launch Privateer, lying at the Union Oil Company's marine service station, foot of Jervis Street at 6.45 p.m. last evening.

Charles Cummings, Archie L. Black and A. Kobyrn, Burnaby, also sustained burns, and were taken to the hospital, but their injuries are not considered serious.

Mrs. Archie Black, Mrs. T. B. Nickson and Miss Marjorie Taafe, who were present on the launch, escaped uninjured, but are reported as suffering from shock.

The actual cause of the explosion is not known, but according to reports the engine had been fueled at the dock and Mr. Grant went into the engine room to start the engine.

As he stepped on the electric starter a terrific explosion occurred, hurling Mr. Grant into the water and wrecking the gas tank of the boat, fire following the outburst.

Eric Suffield, chief officer of the Union Steamship Company's Lady Evelyn dived to the rescue of Mr. Grant and succeeded in bringing him ashore.

The flames were quickly subdued, but not before considerable damage had been done.

Examination showed that the foredeck and engine room of the craft were completely wrecked.

The vessel, which was built some years ago by Hoffar Brothers for I. Claman, is the property of W. D. Grant, Vancouver, and was being outfitted prior to a trip to Harrison Lake for the regatta.

Latest reports from St. Paul's Hospital are that Mr. Grant's condition was considered extremely critical last night, but that he rested more comfortably later and to-day is regarded as having a fair chance for recovery.

AORANGI BRINGS MANY PASSENGERS

Canadian - Australasian Motorship Has 657 in List; Smooth Voyage

Ignace J. Paderewski and Lady G. A. H. Robinson on Board; Light Cargo

Completing her first voyage since she was overhauled at Sydney, N.S.W., the Canadian - Australasian motorship Aorangi, Commander R. Crawford, docked here at 8 o'clock last night. The vessel experienced a very smooth passage from "down under" but during the latter part of the run fog marred the otherwise fine weather.

Although she brought her usual large list of passengers, the Aorangi was light in cargo this trip, bringing slightly over 900 tons all told. For Victoria there were seventy-four tons of general Australian and New Zealand freight, including butter, frozen meat, onions, etc. Vancouver cargo consisted of a large butter shipment, wool, hides, frozen meats and general.

Passengers in all classes numbered 657, comprising 280 first, 147 second and 230 third class. Among the prominent first class passengers were: Ignace J. Paderewski and Madame Paderewski, returning from a concert tour of New Zealand and Australia; Lady G. A. Robinson, on a round the world tour, returning to England via Eastern Canada; H. H. Rushton, colonial treasurer of the Fiji Island, and C. M. Croft, Canadian Trade Commissioner for New Zealand.

The Aorangi brought nearly 600 bags of mail from the Antipodes and Honolulu, including thirty-one bags for Victoria. Eighty-seven bags were set down here for Seattle and six for the airmail service. There were 441 bags on board for Vancouver.

SALMON RUN IS LATE AT KETCHIKAN

Ketchikan, July 22.—With the salmon run here considerably behind that of last year, local cannery men were encouraged yesterday by reports that immense schools were seen on the outside by halibut vessels arriving here.

This means that the fish are on their way toward spawning grounds. Traps nearer the ocean have recently reported better catches. Private advices said the run had started in Icy Straits, and that the Nusagaha area was closed Saturday with fishing in other Bristol Bay points ending Tuesday. It was said the pack there was only sixty per cent of last year's total.

Russia Has Large Cargo For Pacific Voyage to Orient

Among the prominent passengers who sailed from here aboard the R.M.S. Empress of Russia for the Orient last night were Mrs. John Kane, daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Pringle of the U.S. navy, on a tour of the Orient with John Kane Jr.; C. F. Willey, promient cotton merchant of Kobe; Raoul Bigfiazzi, merchant of Venice; Mrs. K. M. Fetterly with her two children, leaving to join her husband, the C.P.R. representative at Kobe; Mrs. A. W. Johnson, the Misses E. L., C. G. and Bernice Johnson of Washington, D.C., on a tour of the Orient.

The Russia sailed about 7 o'clock from here, taking out a capacity cargo. Her passenger list number 325.

Big Silk Cargo On London Maru

Seattle, July 22.—Due here July 29, the London Maru of the O.S.K. line is bringing a cargo of five thousand bales of raw silk valued at $5,000,000, a cable received here yesterday from the Yokohama office said. The vessel also carries 500 tons of bulk oil.

The largest vessel to enter Lake Washington, the 6,650-ton Swedish motorship Falsterbo lies at the south end of the lake and almost in the doorway of the city of Kenton. The ship is loading lumber for Australia.

FRENCH BEAUTY IS STAR IN CAPITOL SCREEN'S FEATURE

Yola d'Avril, First National contract player, who may be seen in the George Fitzmaurice production, "The Tender Hour," at the Capitol Theatre this week, lives up to all earlier reports that she is a genuine discovery.

Miss d'Avril is a charming young Frenchwoman and recently finished a part in "See You in Jail," which Ray Rockett produced with Jack Mulhall featured.

Billie Dove and Ben Lyon play the featured roles in "The Tender Hour," and the supporting cast includes Alec B. Francis, Montague Love, T. Roy Barnes, Charles A. Post, Laska Winter, George Kotsonaros and others. John McCormick produced this picture from an original story by Carey Wilson.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week three high class acts of vaudeville are being offered. They include the Bailey sisters, in an instrumental novelty, introducing accordion and violin solos; Quale and Kelley, in "Whim, Wigor and Wytality," and Winifred Taylor, mezzo-soprano, in song selections.

Where To Go To-night

Columbia—"The Last Frontier."
Capitol—"The Tender Hour."
Dominion—"The Night of Love."
Variety—"The Man of the Forest."
Coliseum—Vaudeville.
Playhouse—"The Flying Fool."
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

ACTOR'S FAD LED TO TROUBLE WHEN INDIANS GOT WISE

Bill Boyd has a new hobby, that of collecting petrified wood. He was kept busy at this at Gap, Arizona, when "The Last Frontier," now showing at the Columbia, was filmed.

Someone tipped the Indians off that Boyd was keenly interested in the famous Petrified Forest of Arizona, and he was forced to evade ambitious peddlers of the paleontological product. The Indians brought it in by the truck load. Instead of being a hobby, Bill found the fad somewhat of a nuisance. Bill has the part of a government scout in "The Last Frontier" and plays opposite Marguerite De La Motte. The supporting cast includes J. Farrell Macdonald, Jack Hoxie, Frank Lackteen and others.

LOUISE FAZENDA TAKES LEAD ROLE IN COMEDY DRAMA

"Her Fame and Shame," was the intriguing title of the first comedy in which Herman Raymaker directed Louise Fazenda. That was a two-reel comedy at Mack Sennett's about 1918.

Their latest is "The Gay Old Bird," feature-length comedy-drama for Warner Bros. with Miss Fazenda starred. It is not their first together on the Warner lot, however, for "The Love Hour," and "Millionaires" both contained their efforts.

In "The Gay Old Bird," Miss Fazenda plays one of the maid roles in which she has won fame. In love with a chauffeur, played by Ed Kennedy, she is pressed into service to substitute for her master's wife when his rich Aunt and Uncle arrive.

William Demarest plays the officious gentleman who arranges it thus and causes all the mixup. John Steppling and Frances Raymond play the Uncle and Aunt. Jane Winton plays the deserting wife who decides to come back with the twins at just the wrong moment.

"The Gay Old Bird" is showing at the Playhouse all this week.

THIS FAMOUS PAIR MAY WED—From Paris comes the report that that Mrs. Dorothy Ingram, widow of Enrico Caruso, and Alexander P. Moore Pittsburgh newspaper publisher, former Ambassador to Spain and husband of the late Lillian Russell, are to marry. This picture of the couple promenading on Park Avenue in New York has never been published before.

VICTOR TOWNLEY

Lyric tenor, well-known during the war as Private James Schofield of the 1st Canadian Division, is due next week at the Coliseum Theatre.

Mr. Townley will include in his repertoire a laughing song of his own composition, as well as the famous "Laughing Song," and favorite old and new ballads. Mr. Townley, while serving in the forces, was detailed by the Dominion Government to assist in entertaining the troops and proved a great favorite in the hospitals and camps of England. Victor Townley will be here on July 25 for the week.

ACTOR ORIGINATED MANY TIMES TOLD HORSEMAN'S TALE

El Brendel, comedian in "Man of the Forest," the Zane Grey Paramount picture arriving at the Variety Theatre to-day with Jack Holt in the leading role, has had lots of stage experience but extremely little with horses.

While on location, Brendel was assigned a horse that exhibited a most unbecoming lack of friendliness. He kicked, pawed, snorted, bucked and snapped at Brendel, finally winding up by getting his hind foot caught in the stirrup.

"Here!" cried Brendel to Director John Waters, dismounting more speedily than gracefully, and throwing down the reins, "you take him. If he wants to get on I'm getting off!"

PLAYFUL SEAL COST PICTURE MAKER BIG SUM IN CALIFORNIA

"Camera-mad" animals stealing the scene is not uncommon in the movies, as George Fitzmaurice, director of "The Night of Love" for Samuel Goldwyn, discovered after an hour of fruitless effort at dissuasion. This time it was a California seal, lacking previous screen-test and experience, but with a flair for film fame.

For some of the colorful gypsy sequences in "The Night of Love" showing at the Dominion, "Fitz" and the Goldwyn company, including Vilma Banky and Ronald Colman, the co-featured players, "moved" for the day to an ideal spot at Laguna Beach, California. The cameras were placed in position to best "catch" the sparkling waves as they rolled over rocks and beach, the company started to work.

But there was one serious drawback as the cameras cranked. A mischievous seal playing among the rocks and in the water refused to vacate the scene. Wherever the cameras moved, the seal moved also—and always within range of the lens.

"Fitz" stroked his forehead and puzzled. In feudal Spain of 500 years ago, where the story of "The Night of Love" is laid, they did not have California seals as talented as this one proved to be.

So the director called a "recess," and the Goldwyn company moved a sufficient distance to preclude the seal's following, and the work of the day proceeded, after a loss of time representing exactly $485.

Hollywood Actor Is Suing For $130,000

Los Angeles, July 22. — Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the late Russian novelist; Harry Wilson, fiction writer, and Edwin Carew, motion picture producer-director, were made defendants in a $130,000 suit filed in superior court here yesterady by Peter Howard, known as Peter the Hermit, of Hollywood, and as a film portrayer of religious characters.

Breach of contract in connection with an alleged promised role in the film "Resurrection" is charged.

Langford

Langford, July 22.—A meeting of the war memorial committee was held in St. Matthew's Church Wednesday evening. A plan of the new memorial pulpit was not considered satisfactory to the working committee, who will get further blue prints for consideration at the next general committee meeting.

John Hunter of Broom Ha, Goldstream Road, entertained five little friends Thursday at Langford Lake. Swimming, boating and games were greatly enjoyed, after which a picnic tea was served. The little guests were Jackie Burnett, Henry Bennett, Oswald Hincks, John Hunter and Bob.

The sum of $70 was raised for the Solarium by the garden party held on Wednesday at "Marshwood" by the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen.

A meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Stuart Yates of the ladies of St Matthew's Guild. A suggestion that the organ fund money be paid monthly from the Guild's funds instead of from individuals was carried. The members agreed to assist the war memorial fund if necessary. Fancy work was given out to the members and also to many friends to be worked at leisure for a sale in November. The Guild meetings will be discontinued for the next two months. Tea was kindly served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Nellie Willson.

There will be Holy Communion service celebrated in St. Matthew's Church, Goldstream Road, on Sunday morning, July 24, at 8 o'clock; Matins, litany and sermon at 11 a.m.

MILITIA UNITS TO HOLD SHAM BATTLE

Largest Practice Since Days of War to be Held To-morrow Night at Esquimalt Harbor

Sham battle practice involving the use of 500 troops will be carried out to-morrow evening at Esquimalt, with Colonel J. C. Harris of the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade acting as fire commander.

Naval boats will leave their base in the Esquimalt harbor and steam out into the Straits. Soldiers carried on the vessels will later in the evening be used as landing parties. The attackers will head for Esquimalt harbor, although they will find the coast from Albert Head lined with gunners ready to fire at the word of command. At night searchlights will play on the Royal Roads and messages will be flashed by signaling lamps. The real battle will start when the sentry on duty sights the enemy craft and is expected to last until early Sunday morning. The sham battle will mark the closing of the camp of the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade at Fort Macaulay.

Members of the militia units which will take part in the battle will be the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish, the Eleventh Machine Gun Battalion, the Eleventh Fortress Signal Company and the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade.

MANSLAUGHTER CONVICTION

Los Angeles, July 22.—Dunward Wittemeyer, sixteen-year-old slayer of Mrs. Fannie Weigle of Pomona, was convicted of second-degree murder late yesterday by a jury which had been deliberating since Tuesday noon. Wittemeyer had confessed to beating to death the middle-aged woman with a piece of automobile spring. His defence was temporary insanity. One woman juror fainted just as the verdict was reached.

WORKMAN KILLED

Nelson, July 22.—John Butorack, twenty-eight, was instantly killed, and Angelo Vulcano, thirty-seven; Guiseppe Pelosa, twenty-six; Michael Kelencz, twenty-eight, and J. S. Togness, forty, were injured more or less seriously yesterday when the mast and the eighty-foot boom of a big derrick used on construction work at the site of the No. 3 plant at South Slocan of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company fell on a group of muckers at the bottom of a huge pit being excavated in the rock to hold the plant.

Hundreds Call at the McFarlane Drug Store, Victoria, as News Spreads That Fine Herb Preparation Will Really Relieve Suffering

Any one doubting the ability of Husky, the herb preparation, distributed through the MacFarlane Drug Co., Victoria, to do all that is said for it, would do well to ask any of the hundreds of people in Victoria, who are taking Husky, how this medicine is helping them. They can and will gladly give you the facts. They are happy in the thought that soon they will be permanently relieved from ailments that had affected them for years in many instances.

MARY EIGNUS

This medicine, made from the pure juices taken from herbs, roots, barks and berries, is accomplishing remarkable work in relieving stomach, liver, kidney and bowel ailments, and such accompanying ills as headaches, dizzy spells, indigestion, gas and sour stomach, constipation, rheumatic pains, nervousness, unsound sleep and weak, run down conditions.

"WOMAN, 78, HELPED"

Miss Mary Eignus, who is 78 years old, tells as follows what she thinks of Husky:

"I am now taking Husky and this medicine is certainly good. Last night I went to sleep early and slept fine all night. The pains have been relieved and I am feeling much better.

"I am still taking Husky and I can honestly recommend it. It is helping me very much and I am speaking a good word for it to all my friends."

Climbing mountains in Correctly Lubricated Cars

AMONG the leaders in providing the modern conveyances which make mountain sight-seeing the comfortable outing it is to-day, the Rocky Mountain Tour and Transport Company will be recalled by many whose tours have included the great National Park of which Banff and Lake Louise are the scenic jewels.
This famous Transport organization, after several months' testing of Marvelube in its fleet, followed by a careful inspection of all equipment, ordered Marvelube for 1927.
The letter of Mr. J. T. McLeod, Manager of the Rocky Mountain Tour and Transport Co. Limited, in which he confirms his Company's intention to use Marvelube, is of interest to every motorist. It reads as follows:
"Having just completed a thorough overhaul of our fleet . . . we find that our motors have had perfect lubrication by the use of your Marvelube . . . We are confident that we are now using the most efficient transport equipment on the market to-day, which we feel is necessary in the handling of the enormous tourist traffic over the mountain highways . . . With the use of Marvelube we have apparently eliminated any sign of lubrication trouble, and we find our power plants in much better condition than at any other previous overhaul. We must now admit your correctness in recommending Marvelube."
The decision of this big Transport organization to definitely adopt Marvelube, was made only after the Company's expert mechanics had for their guidance the observation of an entire season and the result of the season's operation.
Then, with engines dismantled and with Marvelube superiority made evident by the Freedom from Wear exhibited in the exposed working parts, they were so pleased with this proof of Marvelube's perfect lubricating properties as to freely give credit where credit belongs.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, July 22.—Block Maloney to-day say that "it is a big broad market and we shall not be surprised to see more records during the balance of the week, as the news is favorable."

New York Times declares there were indications that sponsors of several metal stocks were resuming activity and there is talk of a merger deal with the American Steel Foundry and other companies.

Allied Chemical and the Duponts have been buyers of Texas Gulf.

General Motors may authorize a larger cash payment than $5 a year per share on the new two-for-one stock.

Eastman Kodak capital structure is to remain the same, Mr. Eastman announces.

New York, July 22 (By R. P. Clark & Company).—Heavy week-end selling was indulged in to-day, but when this had run its course the market showed good recuperative powers. Pressure on special issues such as Lehigh Valley, Houston Oil, Colo. Fuel and Famous Players encouraged active selling on the theory that a technical reaction was overdue. General Motors and Hudson made new highs for the present movement, where they attracted liberal selling, but were prominent later in the recovery.

Oils, speaking generally, held steady in the face of the new high production and the falling off in earnings reported by Marland Oil. The high-priced rail and merger shares were in early demand, but reacted from their best levels, then recovered. Copper and metal shares were strong and in many cases maintained their early rallies.

The lowest renewal rates since last June were in force to-day, the slight decrease in brokerage borrowings being also on the constructive side. At this time the restraining order of the Seminole Committee is one of the outstanding favorable news developments.

Technical considerations were primarily the factors that encouraged the selling activities in force to-day. One of the most encouraging phases of the present market situation, however, is its ability to absorb heavy selling and at the same time attract an active buying power on the declines. The market in some sections, we believe, will do better.

New York, July 22 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: Reactionary tendencies became pronounced to-day. Profit-taking and professional selling grew in volume following a bad break in Houston Oil. These gyrations caused some interests to retire from the market. This liquidation, coupled with active floor operations for the decline started a downward move among the industrials which attained momentum by early afternoon.

The setback at one time threatened to get out of hand. Comfortable conditions prevailing in the credit market were additionally accentuated by the opening of call money at 3¾. This was the first time renewals were below four per cent since June, 1926.

Chrysler made further response to its current earnings, mounting to new high ground on the move. Sears Roebuck advanced to its best levels. This gain reflected the improved crop outlook reported by the weekly mercantile reviews.

Rails were unsettled by an abrupt drop in Lehigh Valley. This decline gave fresh color to recent intimations that competitive buying in the issue had been suspended.

N.Y.C. interests were ready to turn over their holdings to Loree in exchange for a position in Lackawanna.

Gabriel Snubber was a feature of outstanding strength moving to the highest point of its history at 59¼. This gain was accompanied by reports that the company had signed a contract with Ford for the use of snubbers on the new Ford models.

Wall Street continues to hear reports that the $5 Consolidated Gas dividend will be elevated to $6 at the meeting July 28.

Time money against stock exchange collateral is dull. Commercial paper market is quiet with more names moving down to the four per cent basis.

SUGAR

New York, July 22.—The raw sugar market was quiet early to-day. Buyers showed little disposition to make fresh commitments and the undertone, if anything, was a little easier with some nearby duty free sugar offered at last paid prices of 4.52 for Cuban, duty paid. No sales were reported.

In refined sugar some new buying was reported, but the demand on the whole was not very aggressive. Prices were unchanged to 10 points higher and ranged from 5.80 to 5.90 for fine granulated.

To-day's Mining Markets

Indian Mines furnished the chief centre of interest on the local markets to-day. After its run-up yesterday, Indian opened at 9¼ in Vancouver and then climbed to 10. A block was bought on the Victoria exchange this morning for 8¼, but the price here also jumped fast, to close with a sale at 9½. The stock has almost doubled in price in a few days.

George Copper also moved up another peg to-day, selling at 86 on the exchange. Coast Copper was up to 13.50 in Vancouver.

Dunwell sold down to 131 in Vancouver and to 132 and 134 here. Brokers consider that Dunwell has about reached its low on the present move, as President R. M. Stewart arrived from the north to-day and brought the first official and detailed information about the Ben Ali strike at the mine, which is giving unexpectedly high gold values. With the arrival of Mr. Stewart decision will be made as to the date of the general meeting. It was announced to-day that this meeting would be held before the middle of August.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, July 22.—Unfavorable reports of rust and hail damage to the crops in Western Canada and in the Northwestern United States inspired a flurry of buying on the Winnipeg Grain Market to-day. Final quotations were unsettled, ⅝ cents lower to 1¼ higher.

Offerings were quite liberal on the scale upward, with big Canadian interests unloading. Spreading operations again were in evidence while export demand was light.

Barley continued to lead the coarse grains, a fair volume of this commodity being cleared for export. Oats and rye were dull.

Winnipeg, July 22. — Sample of wheat received from Altoona, Man., badly rusted and shows rust in that section has developed rapidly during the past ten days.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Donovon wire from Medicine Hat, Alta., says: "From Moose Jaw westward over 200 miles from here, through sections where in most past season crops were considerably drought damaged, are now showing best prospects in many years, due to more than usual moisture this season. But, like elsewhere, both sides of the lines, considerable of the very late, which causes a longer than usual period of uncertainty, relative to possible rust, heat, frost and other damage. Therefore at this time we estimate Spring wheat in Western Canada around 380,000,000 bushels, and United States 296,000,000 bushels, assuming just ordinary conditions prevail from now on, but, if good conditions continue, Western Canada crop will be enormous."

Winnipeg, July 22.—Liverpool was weak to-day in nearly positions. Weather conditions satisfactory in Western Canada with all crops making good progress. Traders in Winnipeg are timid about selling wheat short, however, as we are now approaching the time when rust, presence in Manitoba, but held in check by weather conditions, might spread to Saskatchewan.

Chicago, July 22 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct pit wire)—Complaints in regard to foreign crops were accompanied by better export buying and a consequent firmness in cash wheat. This and the threat of black rust, where the crop is late, were important factors.

Unless the Spring wheat crop of this country and Canada come through there will be a shortage of wheat for export.

So far this year there have been reports of protein production as appeared last year in the southeast.

Nebraska's big crop is of generous proportions but it is not rich in protein.

Corn was strong on cool weather prevailing. The forecast is for further unsettled and cool weather.

Liverpool is due, ⅛ to ⅞ up.

New York Federal Reserve ratio as of July 20 stood at 88.0, against 83.9 on July 13 and 83.0 a year ago. The system's ratio is 78.8, against 78.0 the preceding week and 76.0 a year ago.

New York, July 22.—Whitney to-day says: "No drastic wide open break in the market is yet in prospect. As nearly as any general statement can cover a market as selective as this one, then as a general statement it can be said that industrials as a whole point downward, while rails indicate either a temporary stand by trend or an advance in the face of an industrial decline.

"It is realized in making this statement that there will be enough exceptions to the general statement covering the prospective action of each of the two groups to cause extreme confusion.

"The main point to bear in mind is that generally speaking the profit-taking has arrived in practically all issues except those which have not advanced sharply.

"Union Carbide is easily going to run contrary to the market. Pittsburg Coal, Warren Pipe and Foundry appear to be developing a familiar move characteristic of stocks which are going to have a real advance while a top is forming so that they will not be available at current prices when action develops.

"Chrysler Motor is another such candidate, and this issue is again recommended for purchase.

"Hold B.O. Under no circumstances sell Erie or Electric Boat.

"Copper, lead and zinc shares are definitely on the way up."

Dodge Earnings At Higher Rate

Some of the figures furnished by the Dominion Security Company and issued here for the information of holders of Dodge stock by the B.C. Bond Corporation are as follows:

Net earnings for six months after depreciation, $7,256,808, of which only $2,524,691 were earned in the first quarter. Allowing for interest on the five per cent serial notes and the six per cent gold debentures and federal income taxes, the net income carried to surplus was $5,020,971, of which only $1,545,348 was made in the first quarter.

The preference stock takes $2,921,250, leaving for common $2,890,720 for the whole half year, of which only $79,723 was made in the first quarter.

The figures above will indicate that the company is very much more prosperous than it was in the first quarter.

SNARED

A Story of One Wonderful Week

By MALCOLM DUART

Copyright 1927

She walked away, smoothing her hair.

"Well of all things!" Nadine looked after her in astonishment. "She took that as meekly as a lamb."

"Women like to be bawled out," said Pierce, complacently.

"I don't," returned the girl. She bent over to pull a blade of new grass that was springing through the mass of dry weeds before her. "Still, you did just what I asked Stewart Bodey to do."

"What was that?"

"I told him to get rough with her, and maybe he could marry her."

Pierce laughed. "What have you got against Bodey?"

"Nothing. Only he wants to marry her — he told me so. He can never do it if he keeps on being meek. Women hate meek men. Anyhow, real women do. These big bustling women who go into politics and manage offices like tame men, I guess. Mama's that way, sort of—she's a born manager."

"Is your father tame?"

"Pretty tame. Mama runs the house, and she runs him, too. He doesn't like it very well—runs away every now and then—says he's going to a convention. I think he breaks loose a little and hits the high spots."

"Only way a woman can keep her husband from busting loose on the quiet is to be good to him," Pierce said, wisely. "When a woman nags a man, he's got to let off steam some way, and sometimes he explodes."

"How do you know so much about it?"

"My aunt—the one who's like Mrs. Smith. She thinks she runs my uncle's life, and she does, too, pretty near. But when he gets away from home—oh boy!" He grinned reminiscently. "I've seen him on a bender, and the kid's good! But my aunt doesn't know it. She believes she's got him licked."

"Aren't people funny?" sighed Nadine. "They're always working against themselves! Here's Mrs. Smith—poor as a church mouse, and she won't marry a rich man because he's in love with her and treats her like a duchess! There's Stewart Bodey, rich enough to marry a Balkan princess if he wanted to—he could almost take his pick—and he's sighing around after a homely old woman with a bad temper!"

"How do you know he's that rich?"

The girl cast a furtive glance around her. Mrs. Smith was banging windows on the upper floor. Stewart Bodey was far down the field with his horses. Young Smith was not visible through the kitchen window.

She thrust her hand into the bosom of her dress and drew out a letter. Pierce leaned close to her and read it, as she held the paper half concealed in her lap.

The letterhead bore Stewart Bodey's name, and a New York address. It had been sent to him in care of a Yonker's club. It read:

"Dear Mr. Bodey:—In answer to your memo. just received, your net receipts from all sources last month were $127,856.22. Average for the year so far, $132,556.39, monthly. Receipts from American investments since January 1, $24,588.88; investments in Ceylon and Annam, $201,529.40; balance was from your South American plants. I was surprised to hear from you from Joliet, as I thought you were in Buenos Ayres by this time. Your regular statements have been forwarded there. Thank you for the increase of salary; it is deeply appreciated. Respectfully,

A. T. ADAMS,
Office Manager."

Pierce whistled. "And there he is, ploughing in that field in his shirt sleeves." He looked at the man, plodding along a furrow in the distance, and his eyes were full of respect. "Hanging around a him old farm with a girl, a young fellow, and a tough kid and a cross, old scolding woman! How come?" He turned to Nadine. "How come?" he repeated.

"And he came to this place drunk!" Nadine also was looking pensively at Stewart Bodey.

"Say!" A new thought had struck the youth, and he leaned forward to look into the girl's face. "How'd you get that letter?"

"I went through his coat," she said, calmly. "He hung it up, and I wanted to see what he had in his pockets."

Pierce leaped to his feet. "You stole his letter?"

A flush of indignation came to Nadine's cheeks. "I didn't steal anything!" she denied. "I only wanted to find out more about him! Didn't I have a right to do that?"

The youth stood, his mouth open, and an expression of amazed horror in his eyes as he gazed at her.

"Mrs. Smith went through your coat," she continued, "and look at what she found!"

She brought forth another letter and handed it to him.

CHAPTER XXXIX

Pierce took the letter, and glanced at it. The envelope was creased and grimy, with the decrepit look that comes to correspondence that has been carried too long.

"Huh, I know who that's from," said he.

"It's from a girl, and she calls you 'honey,'" accused Nadine.

"You had no right to read it," he said, stuffing the envelope unopened into his pocket.

"I had as much right to read it as Mrs. Smith did," the girl maintained.

"Women have no conscience at all," said he, bitterly. "You go through a man's pockets — a man you hardly know. Mrs. Smith goes through my pockets, and she got that letter from the detectives out of John Edward Bodey's clothes. How'd you get this letter of Lucy's?"

"Oh!" crowed the girl. "Her name's Lucy, is it? She just signs it 'Babe' in there!" She slapped her hands in triumph. "Who's Lucy?"

"A girl," he said. "How'd you get the letter, if it was Mrs. Smith who swiped it?"

"She giggled and gave it to me," said Nadine. "Charley, who is Lucy?"

"Just a girl. I hardly know her."

"You're not telling the truth," she announced. "She calls you 'honey' and sends kisses."

"Oh, that's the way girls write nowadays. It doesn't mean anything. I met her at a party."

"When?"

"A long time ago."

"But when?"

"Couple of weeks ago."

"But that was after you met me!"

"Sure it was. What about it?"

"Nothing." She rested her chin in her hand and her elbow upon her knee, and looked dreamily into the distance.

Pierce fidgeted a moment, and then sat down beside her again. "Nadine, you had no business taking that letter from Mr. Bodey's pocket."

The girl continued her reverie, as if he had not spoken.

"You've got to tell him you took it," he persisted.

She sighed gently and tapped a projecting timber with the toe of her shoe.

"Give it to me and I'll give it to him," he proposed.

She still held Bodey's letter in her left hand. She passed it to the youth, without comment and without moving her head.

Pierce looked at the amateur ploughman, whose back was toward them, far at the other end of the field. The man's coat was hanging on a nail, driven between the bricks at the side of the old milk house.

The youth arose, carried the letter to the coat, put it in the breast pocket, and returned with an expression of relief.

"I hope this'll teach you a lesson, Nadine," he said.

"That what will teach me a lesson?" she asked, pettishly.

"This—getting caught with somebody else's mail. It's against the law, I think. Anyway, it isn't square. My aunt goes through her husband's pockets—"

"All women go through men's pockets," she stated.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Golf Game

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Baby Bunty, who had hopped into the hollow stump bungalow to ask Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy for a molasses cookie one morning, saw Uncle Wiggily take a long bag of heavy iron and wooden clubs out of the umbrella closet.

"Oh, Unkie Wig!" lisped the little rabbit girl who often pretended she only knew baby talk, "is 'oo goin' give bad, naughty nannimiles spankin'?"

"Oh, there's some trick here!"

Baby Bunty could say "you" and "animals" as well as she could speak her own name, but she made believe she couldn't, just for fun.

"What makes you think I am going to beat any bad animals, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears, slinging the bag around his shoulder.

"'Cause 'oo dot so many clubs," laughed Bunty.

"Oh, these are my golf clubs," explained the rabbit gentleman, "I am going to play a game of golf with Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman. He is getting too fat, he says, and he wants to run around and chase a golf ball so he will grow thin."

Uncle Wiggily made sure he had all his golf clubs in the bag. Then he looked to see if he had enough of the small, hard, white rubber balls that are knocked so far over the green golf links. And then Mr. Longears looked up to see what Baby Bunty was doing.

But the little orphan rabbit girl had hopped out of the bungalow and was running as fast as she could down the woodland path.

"That's queer," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I was sure she was going to ask if she couldn't come to watch Twisty and me play golf. But she didn't. I would have taken her, too, poor little tyke. I wonder why she didn't tease to come with me?"

Now Baby Bunty had a very good reason for not asking Uncle Wiggily to take her to his golf game, and I am going to tell you about it.

The little rabbit orphan hopped along the woodland path until she met Jennie Chipmunk who had a lovely striped fur coat. Even in Summer Jennie wore her fur coat, though it was thinner than in Winter.

"Oh, Jennie!" gasped Baby Bunty for she was a little out of breath. "I know how we can play a lovely trick on Unkie Wig!"

"How?" chattered Jennie, who was almost as much of a mischievious little tyke as was Bunty. "What kind of a trick?"

"Where is that white rubber toy balloon you had yesterday playing with?" asked Bunty.

"It's in my hollow tree house," Bunty answered.

"Come on!" cried Bunty. "We'll get it and play the loveliest trick on Uncle Wiggily you ever heard of. Hurry!"

Bunty brought out the toy rubber balloon, which was blown up to about the size of a big pumpkin. It was filled with air, and not gas, so it did not float over the heads of the little animal girls, but rested gently on the ground when not jerked about by its string.

"Uncle Wiggily has gone to play golf with Mr. Twistytail," explained Bunty as she and Jennie hurried along through the woods, with the toy balloon. "He will knock his little white golf ball away far off in the grass. He always knocks it from the first tee down by the old oak tree. Now you and I will be hiding there, and we will be out of sight in the long grass. And when Unkie Wig's little golf ball rolls along, we'll pick it up, hide it and in place of it we'll put this big toy white balloon."

"Oh, what fun!" chattered Jennie. "Unkie Wig will think his golf ball has the mumps; won't he! Ho! Ho!"

"Yes," agreed Bunty. "It will look zactly like golf ball mumps!"

Not knowing about the trick, Uncle Wiggily drove off his little white golf ball. It rolled into the grass near where Bunty and Jennie were hiding. Quickly they put the big white balloon in its place. And when the rabbit gentleman strolled up and saw what he thought was his golf ball, he cried:

"Oh, there is some trick here! My golf ball has swelled up as big as a pumpkin. Once before the bad chaps tried to play a golf ball trick on me, but they snap't again. I'll fix them!" And before Bunty or Jennie could jump up and explain, Uncle Wiggily raised his club and brought it down with a "Bang!" on the toy balloon, bursting it with a loud noise.

"Oh!" cried Bunty.

"Oh, dear!" cried Jennie Chipmunk. And how Uncle Wiggily laughed when the two little animal girls hopped out of the high grass and he knew they had played a trick on him. He said he was sorry he had broken Jennie's balloon. But he bought her another and one for Bunty also. Then the little girls hopped away, and the bunny and pig played golf all day. And if the comb doesn't keep the hair brush awake all night crying with the tooth ache I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's little joke.

Two Women Owe Health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Adolphe, Manitoba.—"I was very weak and had great pains during my periods so that I could not sweep the floor. The pains were in the right side and extended to the left and then downwards. It seemed as if the body was heavy and upside down. It is for these troubles I took the Vegetable Compound. I saw about it in a paper and one woman prevailed on me to take it. It has helped me in every way, the pains are less, and I have more appetite. It is a pleasure to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to other women."—Mrs. J. L. COURCHAINE, St. Adolphe, Manitoba.

Found Great Relief

Toronto, Ont.—"I am at the Change of Life with hot flashes, dizziness, weakness and nervousness. I had head noises and was short of breath. I was this way about six months when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers. I have taken eight bottles so far and found great relief."—Mrs. R. J. SALMON, 112 Lawlor Ave., Toronto, Ont.

East Kootenay Power Ready to Commence Steam Plant Operation

Cranbrook, B.C., July 22.—F. T. Davies of the engineering staff of the Power Corporation of Canada Limited has returned to Montreal after a tour of inspection of the development work of East Kootenay Power Company, which serves a territory extending from Cranbrook, B.C., to Blairmore, Alta.

East Kootenay has been working in the construction of the Sentinel Steam Power Station, on Crows Nest Lake in Alberta and this has proceeded to the stage where operations will be possible in a few days. This plant was started to increase the capacity of the company's hydroelectric plant and at the same time insure continuous service at times when water power might be affected by low water. Being in a coal mining district an ample and cheap supply of coal is available for the steam station.

Mr. Davies found that the first unit of 5,000 K.W.H. about ready to begin operations and plant construction is now ready to receive the second unit at any time. This will be required at so early date to meet the increasing demand for power which is steadily developing within the territory served. It was reported that 250,000 of new business was available for the new plant upon completion.

The larger power consumers of the district are the various coal mines which comprise the chief industry outside the power supplied to the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's plant which is the largest single enterprise operating in that section of British Columbia and is rapidly exceeding the scope of its operations. For some time back the coal mines suffered from a great deal of labor trouble which seriously curtailed output as well as power consumption. This drawback has been completely overcome and the district is once more prosperous which is a favorable augury for the earning power of West Kootenay Power Company. It is consequently expected that the current fiscal year, which commenced April 1, will prove the best the company ever had.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1927

Conflicting planetary influences hold sway to-day, according to astrology which finds the planetary government generally unfavorable.

In the early morning it is well to pay bills and look after one's banking interests. There is an aspect presaging profit to newspapers and other periodicals, for there will be intense interest in foreign news.

Advertising in every line is subject to a good direction of the stars, which indicate increased interest in personal publicity.

This may not be a satisfactory rule for those who travel by water, for storms on the ocean appear to be indicated.

Under this direction of the stars there may be much discontent and restlessness, which should be curbed.

Again sudden changes of temperature and unusual storms are prognosticated.

Hotel proprietors and owners should profit especially at this time when there will be a tendency to seek pleasure without counting its cost.

Much honor and profit are foretold for those already in places in the Sun. The stars indicate that to him who hath much will be given.

Money will come to capitalists and not to workers under this planetary rule, it is prophesied.

Danger of fires in public institutions as well as among the forests is supposed to be increased by the aspects of the stars to-day.

Persons whose birthdate it is may be weary of old ties and old duties in the coming year, which will perhaps bring severe tests.

Children born on this day may be exceedingly forceful and individualistic. Both boys and girls may be difficult to guide, but they should have great possibilities.

During the year 1926, American aeroplane manufacturers constructed and newly designed planes for commercial purposes. At the first of this year approximately 1,200 modern planes were in commerical use in the United States.

When a New York farmer killed a cow he found in her stomach nails, pieces of wire and iron washers. Several pieces of wire had penetrated the animals' heart, but had not caused suffering.

THE TINYMITES

BY RAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The jelly beans were round and long, and grew on bushes very strong. The bushes towered up very high, o'er Tinies on their toes. Whoever planted them sure knew the proper things that he should do, for everything was neatness, and they stood in even rows.

Wee Clowny started in to pick and said, "I'll bet that I get sick. I guess I'll store a lot away and fill my pockets full. It's just as easy as can be to pull the dandy candy free. The quickest way to do it is to simply stand and pull."

"Well, don't be pigish," Scouty cried. "Put all you want on your inside, but let's not fill our pockets. That would surely be quite wrong. When we have had all we can eat, 'tis best that we all be discreet and leave a few for other folks who chance to come along."

"You're right!" said Carpy. "Let's be kind, and not take all the beans we find. I guess we'd best behave ourselves, while we're in Candy Land. At present everything seems well, but that might change. Now, who can tell? Remember, everything we do by some kind friend is planned."

And so they ate till satisfied. All different colored beans were tried. And then wee Coppy stretched a bit and said, "I'm feeling grand, but now I've really had enough. I do not care to stand and stuff." Just then they heard a flutter of some wings right near at hand.

"Oh, look!" cried Scouty. "Something brown from yonder bush has just hopped down." The Tinies stood and looked at it—and then they stared again. Then Clowny waved his pointed hat. "I've never seen a thing like that," said he. "As sure as we're alive, that bird's a chocolate hen."

Dear Sir,

For several years I have been suffering from sciatica. A month ago it was so bad I could not walk without suffering the most excruciating pain. I heard of the I-ON-A-CO Belt, came to your office and took your special offer of twelve treatments. After three or four treatments I was feeling much better and by the time the twelve treatments were finished the sciatica had completely left me. I am feeling better now than I have felt for years.

I shall always be pleased to recommend the I-ON-A-CO Belt to anyone who suffers like I did.

EIGHT-HOUR-DAY LAW AIDS THOUSANDS OF B.C. WORKERS CUTTING DOWN WORKING TIME

Reviewing the second year of the operation of the Hours of Work Act in British Columbia, the board administering the eight-hour day law, consisting of J. D. McNiven, chairman, T. F. Paterson and F. V. Foster, state that the statute has been of distinct benefit to many thousands of workers whose hours of labor it has materially reduced, and that it has been loyally observed by those in control of industrial operations.

The report of the board, which has just been presented to Hon. A. M. Manson, Minister of Labor, recalls how, at the time of the passing of the act, it was pointed out that occupations where workers were able to build up strong organizations of their own were not likely to be affected greatly by its provisions, as they had, for the most part, secured an eight hours' working day by their own efforts. In some leading industries, however, the case was different, and long working hours were extremely prevalent with large bodies of unorganized workers. It is to these in particular, that the act has been found applicable, and its administration during the past two years has had the effect of reducing their hours of labor in a very important degree, the report states.

FEW COMPLAINTS

Complaints of non-observance of the act have reached the board from time to time, although, taking into account the diversified nature of British Columbia industries, and the very wide area over which they are distributed, it may fairly be said that such complaints were far less frequent than might have been expected. Investigation into their causes has been made, either by members of the board personally or by the staff of the Department of Labor, and where grounds of complaint were found to exist there has been little difficulty in having matters put right. The amount of friction or misunderstanding in the working of the act in fact, has been singularly small.

"A rigid enforcement of an eight-hour working day, for all workers in all industries at all times, was clearly not contemplated by the Legislature, which expressly permitted a large amount of flexibility in bringing the principle of the legal limitation of working hours into consonance with the changing needs of industry," the report says. "The act itself contained qualifying clauses with this object in view, and also empowered the Board of Adjustment to frame such exemptions to the operation of the act, both permanent and temporary, as might be found necessary. Permanent exemptions have been provided for in regulations issued by the board, which have a more or less general application in the industries to which they relate. Temporary exemptions are those allowed by the board from time to time, to meet the requirements of individual employers in periods of unusual stress or emergency."

EXEMPTIONS GRANTED

During the year 1926 there were as many as 176 of these temporary exemptions, the majority having been in the interest of those engaged in one branch or another of the lumbering industry.

Where the grounds upon which applications for exemption were made appeared to be unreasonable or insufficient, such applications were not acceded to. During the last year forty-two applications were refused by the board.

MANY BENEFIT

That the act has resulted in a considerable shortening of the working day for those who formerly used ot be employed for an excessive number of hours, appears to admit of no doubt. Abundant proof of this is to be found in the details as to working hours which were collected by the Department of Labor from 4,521 employers in the last year. This has permitted of a comparison being made between 1924, the year before the act became operative, and 1926. In nineteen of the twenty-five industrial groups there is a lowering of the average weekly working period, and those groups not so affected either contain a considerable number of workers who do not come under the provisions of the act, or their normal working hours, both before and since the passing of the act, have been fewer than forty-eight a week.

IN LUMBERING

It is in the lumbering group of industries, employing altogether something like 40,000 persons, that the effect of the Hours of Work Act has chiefly been felt. In the logging branch the average hours have been reduced 2.08 per week. Sawmills have witnessed an average reduction of working time by 4.82 hours a week, shingle mills 7.12 hours, planing mills 5.10 hours, logging railways 1.95 hours, box factories, sash and door plants, 2.62 hours, mixed plants 4.98 hours, and pulp and paper mills 5.01 hours. In the lumbering group there are still some sections with an average slightly over forty-eight hours, which is explained by permanent and temporray exemptions, but the above figures show that, for the general body of workers, the act has meant a real reduction in the hours of labor.

CONTRACTING HOURS CUT

Apart from the lumbering industry there is an average reduction of 2.15 hours weekly in the contracting group, and 4.41 hours in the allied group of builders' material. The other changes, says the report, are less important, though, in reference to an increase of 3.49 hours weekly in the oil refining group, it should be noted that this group includes the new fish reduction plants, where the operations are both seasonal and intermittent, and in which it would not be possible to insist upon a strict interpretation of the act.

Port Arthurites Digging For Silver

Port Arthur, July 22.—Groups of Port Arthur citizens have been engaged on a treasure hunt within the confines of the city during the past few days.

As the result of blasting operations in one of the principal thoroughfares, samples of silver ore have been taken out and residents have been busy digging on private property in the hope of striking a vein.

The existence of silver here has long been known, the vein being part of the Thunder Bay ore system.

Colman's Popular Recipes for Summertime

People should eat sparingly of heavy dishes during the warm summer days. Salads, fresh vegetables, dainty sandwiches, cheese toasts, devilled eggs, tomatoes and other light, but nourishing foods please the palate and lessen the burden on your digestion.

The following recipes will help to make meals more appetizing. Clip them for future reference.

HOT CHEESE DREAMS

½ lb. American cheese or 1½ cups grated; 1 tablespoon melted butter; ½ cup milk; ½ teaspoon Colman's Mustard; ¼ teaspoon paprika; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 egg:

Mix all the ingredients together into a smooth paste. Spread between slices of bread. Fry the sandwich in butter in a frying pan until nicely browned on both sides. This filling may be prepared and kept indefinitely. A slice of bacon may be used as a garnish.

TOASTED CHEESE SANDWICH

Prepare a filling as for hot cheese dreams, but toast sandwich on both sides.

FRENCH DRESSING

½ cup oil; 2 tablespoons vinegar; 1 teaspoon paprika; 1 teaspoon powdered sugar; ½ teaspoon Colman's Mustard; 2 teaspoons salt; dash cayenne:

Place all of the ingredients in a bottle or cruet, chill, shake vigorously just before serving. A little onion juice, garlic or Worcestershire sauce may be added if desired.

DEVILLED TOMATOES

3 large tomatoes; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 egg yolk; 1 teaspoon Colman's Mustard; 1 tablespoon vinegar; ¼ teaspoon salt; few grains pepper:

Cut the tomatoes in half and over the cut surface of each half spread the butter mixed to a paste with the other ingredients. Bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

OLIVE AND NUT SANDWICHES

Chop finely an equal quantity of olives and nuts and add to it a good mayonnaise made with Colman's Mustard. Spread this preparation between slices of well buttered brown bread and a leaf of lettuce.

NEW MAYONNAISE

Give your mayonnaise a new zest by adding 1½ level teaspoons Colman's Mustard for each egg yolk, blending them before you add the salad oil. For boiled dressing allow 1 level teaspoon Colman's Mustard to each egg yolk.

ESCAPED GUIANA CONVICT RECAPTURED

E. Dieudonne, Paris Apache, Taken Back to Devil's Island

Rio de Janeiro, July 22.—Eugene Dieudonne, only living member of the internationally known pre-war band of Parisian Apaches led by the dreaded criminal, Janes Bonnet, the demon chauffeur, recently escaped from the penal colony in French Guiana. This fact became known yesterday through his recapture by the Brazilian police in the state of Para, Northern Brazil.

Dieudonne arived here yesterday in custody of police.

PARIS HEARS NEWS

Paris, July 22.—The recapture of Eugene Dieudonne in Brazil after three months' hardships on the waters and in the swamps of South America has caused a thrill in the Paris underworld.

"He is not dead; that's something," Paris Apaches, who frequent the brilliantly illuminated streets and the darker lanes from Montmartre to St. Denis Gate, said last evening with a sigh of relief.

The escape of "the Scholar Member of the Bonnet Gang" had been known in Paris for several months, many papers expressing the belief that he had lost his life in an attempt to make his way from Devil's Island, where Dreyfus spent years.

"The experience gained from this will enable him to make good next time," asserted one habitue of Faubourg—Montmartre who boasts seven convictions.

"One gets away from penal settlements," said the Apaches. "The only thing one fails to get away from is the guillotine."

CYCLONE WRECKED PRAIRIE FARM SHED

Govan, Sask., July 22.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a cyclone struck on the farm of Fred Unger, eight miles northwest of Strassbourg, and a cloudburst followed shortly after about three miles south of the Unger farm. The twister struck in a field and rooted up some grain, lifted, struck a little farther on and rose again, and then hit Unger's implement shed. That building, 100 by 50 feet, had the roof torn off and the east side wall wrecked. Some hail fell, but did not damage crops. The cloudburst struck prairie land not cropped and no damage resulted.

Armed Clashes in Nicaragua Expected

Managua, Nicaragua, July 22.—General Sandino, notwithstanding the defeat with numerous casualties which his rebel band suffered at the hands of United States marines and native constabulary at Ocotal, hopes to capture Tiscapa fort, which controls the city of Managua, now occupied by United States marines.

An intercepted message addressed by Sandino to his wife reads: "Although they believe me weak, I shall soon occupy the Tiscapa fortress."

"Whoever believes we are downcast by the heavy casualties misjudges my army, for to-day we are more impatient than ever to seek out the traitors of our country, determined to die if we cannot secure complete liberty for all men."

Meanwhile United States aeroplanes reaching Managua after reconnaissances in the Ocotal region reported a few bands of rebels under Sandino's leadership at Chilpotea and other concentrations of rebels to the southeast.

Major Ross Rowell, in command of the air squadron, has sent by air to Ocotal small field pieces and some machine guns and reinforcements are expected momentarily at Ocotal, so the garrison will be prepared for any emergency.

U.S. Educational Films Now Bring Criticism in Rome

Rome, July 22.—A warning to Europeans to defend themselves against the influence of United States educational moving pictures is sounded in an editorial in The Osservatore Romano official organ of the Vatican.

The editorial says these pictures are spreading ideas constituting a "deadly poison" capable of having seriously deleterious effects on European civilization.

"Watch out for those so-called educational films by which America presumes not only to amuse but to instruct us," says the editorial. "America is a very great country whose uncontested dollar superiority has made it think it possesses also spiritual superiority. Certain American tendencies, furnished with exceptional gifts of practicality, which consider force as a philosophy and the aphorism of Henry Ford as criticisms of pure reason, can be adaptable to certain too-modern mentalities, but, for our part we find them very defective."

QUEBEC DEATH

Montreal, July 22—Alderman Michael Thomas McMahon of Lachine was found dead of heart failure here yesterday. He was vice-president of construction of the Dominion Bridge Company and for the past five years had been a member of the Lachine city council. He is survived by a widow and four sons.
